Pilots Delay Strike; TWA Rejects Bid

Thanksgiving Travel Outlook Brighter As Plane Situation Eases

BULLETIN

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Trans World Airlines today rejected a compromise offer by the union for settlement of a strike now in its sixth day.

By United Press International

The threat of further strikes in the airline industry eased a bit today and there was hope a six-day walkout against Trans World Airlines would be settled quickly.

The outlook for Thanksgiving holiday air travelers brightened late Tuesday when the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA) postponed a strike against American Airlines in compliance with a federal court injunction.

Earlier, machinists reached a last-minute agreement with National Airlines to head off a strike against a fourth major air carrier.

Eastern Grounded

That left Eastern Airlines and TWA, which between them operate about one-third of the nation's commercial planes, still grounded by walkouts.

Eastern Tuesday filed a five-million-dollar suit against striking flight engineers and asked one million dollars a day while the walkout continues against the nation's busiest airline. There was little hope for early settlement of the strike by engineers and mechanics against Eastern.

Progress was reported in efforts to settle a strike by stewardesses against Lake Central Airlines, a feeder line with offices in Indianapolis. Lake Central maintained scheduled flights when pilots crossed the stewardesses' picket lines.

Announce Agreement

And the Air Transport Division of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks Tuesday night announced an agreement with Pan American World Airways, Inc., after six months of negotiations. The pact will give about 5,000 clerical workers an increase of 15 to 25 cents over their present average hourly wage which ranges from $1.71 to $2.55.

A strike against American, which had been slated for mid-night Tuesday night, was postponed at least until Friday when a court hearing will be held on a temporary injunction banning the walkout.

The walkout would have affected 1,491 pilots of American Airlines and would have left only one of the "big four" carriers, United, still in operation.

The ALPA had proceeded with plans to carry out the strike against American Tuesday despite the restraining order issued the night before in New York by Federal Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan.

State Wards To Be Given Turkey Feast

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Thousands of wards of the State will feast tomorrow on turkeys grown on one of the biggest turkey farms in Maryland — the State Reformatory for Males near here.

Superintendent Clement J. Ferling said more than 3,500 turkeys were grown this year for use at State Institutions on Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The turkeys, both white and bronze variety, average about 25 pounds each. That figures out to about 44 tons.

And turkeys are just a sideline on the 1,200-acre tract operated by young inmates. They also produce thousands of pounds of vegetables of all description which are canned for use at the reformatory and other State institutions.

The reformatory has filled 22 orders for Thanksgiving turkey, including 2,200 pounds to be eaten on the premises.

Stormy Saga Of Pet Canine Fair Weather Ends Happily

ORANGE, Mass. (AP)—This is the story of the rather stormy life of Fair Weather, an English bulldog.

Like New England weather, he is inclined to be unpredictable. He ran away from his owner, Ernest Johnson of Springfield.

He wandered to a restaurant near the Massachusetts Turnpike and for three days lived off handouts.

On the fourth day, the Rev. Decatur Butler stopped to eat and took a liking to the dog.

The feeling apparently was mutual, because Fair Weather consented to go home with the Rev. Mr. Butler. Soon the pooch was a real buddy to the three Butler children.

Not long afterward the dog wandered away and did not return.

'UGH,' SHE SAYS—Part of Faye Patterson's day as a member of U.S. Sen. Estes Kefauver's staff was spent handling Tennessee fishing worms requested by an Anchorage, Alaska, woman who jokingly passed on word that "ice worms" up there had "blue eyes" and just won't do as characters in a play. Fifty of the eyeless Tennessee worms were airmailed to her yesterday from Chattanooga. (AP Photofax)

Missing Tot Found After Intense Hunt

Boy, 3, Located Near Swamp After All-Night Search

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—A three-year-old boy who wandered from his grandparents' home with his dog was found asleep and unharmed today beside a swamp near here after an all-night search.

Russell (Rusty) Dunham apparently was in good condition despite the 40-degree temperature. Searchers found him huddled in some brush, wet from the waist down from tramping in the swamp, about one mile from his grandparents' home.

He was fully clad except for his boots which he had lost. He had on blue jeans, T-shirt, flannel shirt and lightweight jacket.

Rusty's mother, Mrs. Russell Dunham of Roger Heights, greeted him joyously. Bundled in blankets, he was taken by ambulance — his mother with him — to Prince Georges Hospital for observation.

The boy told rescuers he had followed his dog Poochie away from the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bright, with whom he stays during the week while his parents work. Then he got lost.

About 5 p.m., an hour after the boy and his dog first were missed, Poochie came back, wet and alone. His grandmother, who says Rusty would follow Poochie anywhere, feared the boy had drowned.

Police were notified. Eventually, more than 300 policemen, firemen and citizens and a bloodhound joined in the search.

The boy was found at 7:45 a.m. by Joseph A. Poe, 32, a District Heights volunteer fireman. Poe said Rusty awakened as he approached. Another searcher, William Storms, 20, Upper Marlboro volunteer fireman, asked the boy: "Are you glad to see us?"

Rusty shook his head affirmatively, but didn't speak.

No Paper Thursday

Tuesday's Not Farmer's Day

HATTIESBURG, Miss. — (UPI)—Tuesday was by no means F. M. Cooley's day.

Cooley, a farmer, drove his car into town Tuesday morning to visit a relative in the hospital. On the way home, his car was demolished in a collision.

He returned home unhurt. Tuesday afternoon he decided to pay another visit to the hospital. This time he drove his pickup truck to town.

On the way home, and exactly on the scene of the morning accident, another collision knocked the pickup out of action. Again, Cooley was unhurt.

The Nixon smile captured the admiration of the British press. From the time the vice president and his wife left their plane until they headed for bed late Tuesday night after a reception, they were ready with what one newspaper called "the all-American smile."

Previously, most Britons had been unimpressed by Nixon, considering him a shrewd, even ruthless, political go-getter.

Dedicate Chapel

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II personally led the people of Britain today in paying tribute to the 28,000 American servicemen who died while serving in Britain during World War II.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon served as President Eisenhower's personal representative at the dedication of an American memorial chapel in centuries-old St. Paul's Cathedral.

More than $100,000 was raised from the pockets of people ranging from wealthy businessmen to children who remembered the presents given them by the GIs during the war.

Snow Looms Late Sunday

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five day forecast:

Maryland and Delaware: Temperatures will average 3 to 8 degrees below normal. Colder Thursday and Friday, warmer Sunday. Snow or snow flurries in Western Maryland late Sunday or Monday, with little or no precipitation expected elsewhere. Normal highs range from the mid 40s in the mountains to near 30 elsewhere. Lows range from the mid 20s in the mountains to 30-36 elsewhere.

Youth Dies, Trio Hurt In Accident

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A 16-year-old South Charleston youth was killed and three companions were injured Tuesday night when their car left a road in north Charleston and plunged into a creek.

Killed was Grover Shelton. Police said Shelton, the driver, apparently lost control of his convertible on a curve. It hit a tree and overturned in a creek.

Weather, Strikes Cause Nation's Thanksgiving To Be One Of Homiest

By United Press International

Millions of Americans will celebrate Thanksgiving at home Thursday, while the traditional fowl dinners in the oven, and the winds howl outside.

It was expected to be one of the homiest Thanksgivings in recent years with much of the nation facing bad weather and some of the largest airlines out of service because of strikes.

The National Safety Council did not make a prediction on the expected traffic death toll, but it did expect that during a non-holiday period extending from 8 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday 470 persons would be killed.

Driver's Excuse Novel But Judge Finds Him Guilty

NEW YORK (AP)—Murray Schneider's defense to a charge that he was speeding on the Franklin D. Roosevelt drive at 55 miles an hour was a novel one, Magistrate Hyman Bushel admitted, but not good enough.

"How could I be speeding?" Schneider asked the magistrate. "I was holding on to the wheel with only one hand and I was playing the harmonica with the other."

"It's a darn lucky thing you weren't playing the drum," Magistrate Bushel retorted. "Guilty! Fine is $5."

Bus Fare Hike Due

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Passenger fares on major interstate buses east of the Mississippi River are expected to go up six per cent Dec. 1, an Interstate Commerce Commission spokesman indicated Tuesday night.

British Like All-America Nixon, Wife

Smile Especially Impresses Britons On Goodwill Visit

LONDON (AP)—Britons had their first good look at Vice President Nixon and found he measures up 100 per cent to their idea of the all-American boy.

They're just as delighted with "Nattie Patty," as the London press has dubbed Mrs. Nixon.

In the first 12 hours of their visit, the vice presidential couple impressed everyone by being smiling, courteous, deferential and so eager to please.

Begins In Chaos

The Nixons' four-day stay in Britain began Tuesday in chaos. Because of fog, their plane had to land at the wrong airport and the red carpet welcome went haywire.

The Nixons smiled through it all. Being from Los Angeles, he said, the fog made them feel at home. Before he was through, everyone felt he would have been disappointed had it been a bright, clear day.

At a 500-place luncheon at London's swank Savoy Hotel, Nixon took traditional British pomp and ceremony in his American stride. The minute he finished his peaches, he popped a mint into his mouth, laughed easily and joked with his companions as the party broke up.

Lunch for Mrs. Nixon was just as informal, although most of the 25 guests at the American ambassador's residence were from Debrett's peerage. "Just all the girls together," Pat reported. "We didn't toast anybody. Not even the queen."

The Nixon smile captured the admiration of the British press. From the time the vice president and his wife left their plane until they headed for bed late Tuesday night after a reception, they were ready with what one newspaper called "the all-American smile."

REDS PROTEST NIXON VISIT—British Communists carry signs and banners protesting the visit of Vice President Richard Nixon to England during demonstrations in London's West End last night. Nixon was attending a party at the home of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at the time. About 50 London hooligans marched alongside the demonstrators to keep order. Reds Charge U.S. Shipping War Material

East Germans Say Armaments Sent To West Area By Train

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communists accused the United States today of shipping war material from West Berlin to West Germany aboard Allied trains and the Western powers braced for Red attempts to board and search them.

The Communist charges were made shortly after the U.S. Army disclosed it had tested Soviet blockade intentions by successfully sending a covered Army truck from Berlin to West Germany although Russia in the past demanded the right to inspect such vehicles.

The East Germans made their new charges in a story printed in the Communist-edited Berliner Zeitung and broadcast by the East German Radio. They said production and shipment of armaments violated four power agreements on Berlin.

The Communists said a series of armaments across 110 miles of the Soviet Zone to Western Allied and West German troops although four power agreements on Berlin ban war production in the city.

The Reds said the Western violations came to light after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's announcement the Soviets will hand over occupation controls to East Germany — a plan that will place Western Allied life-lines at the mercy of East Germans.

Nippy Holiday Weather Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Weather Bureau says Thanksgiving Day will have a nip in the air over much of the nation.

The bureau said blustery winds across the Great Lakes would carry snow through the Appalachians as far south as Virginia. The winds will chill the East as far south as northern Florida.

Most of the northwest and the heart of the nation will have fair weather.

Thor Missile Flight Tested By Air Force

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The Air Force sent an intermediate range Thor on a scheduled 1,500-mile flight early today in the 20th test of the versatile combat rocket.

The blunt-nosed, 65-foot weapon lifted off its launching pad at 4:09 a.m. e.s.t., and its glow, reflected from a low-hanging haze, lighted the missile test center for 160 seconds.

Its powerful engine generating a force equivalent of 1,500 sticks of dynamite every second, the Douglas-made weapon roared out toward the edge of the earth's atmosphere. Then its engine shut off and it started the coasting phase which was to end with separation of the nose cone.

In a combat situation, the nose cone would be equipped with a hydrogen warhead.

"The test was one of a continuing series of advanced research and development flight tests of the Thor weapons system," the Air Force said.

Mediator Won't Eat Pie, Delays Bakers' Walkout

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal mediator who never eats pie delayed a strike of 450 pie bakers Tuesday.

So, nearly a million pies, mostly pumpkin and mince, will be available for Thanksgiving dinners in the Chicago area.

Peter Carbonara, Bakers Union president, said after 15 consecutive hours of negotiations in the wage dispute with five major companies he decided to go along with the membership vote and call a strike.

But, he said, William G. Murray, a commissioner with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, interceded.

Carbonara said Murray convinced union officials that "Thanksgiving would be just another day without pumpkin and mince pie on the table," and the walkout was delayed.

He said the union and company officials would resume negotiations Friday — the day after Thanksgiving.

One Senate Race Close, Tally Shows

Bartlett Landslide Victor As Gruening Leading Steppovich

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A smashing Democratic victory in Alaska's election emerged today as returns mounted from the vast territory's 287 precincts.

Democrats led in all major races and were assured of overwhelming control of the 60-member Legislature.

Less than half the estimated total vote of about 40,000 in Tuesday's general election had been reported, but big city precincts still out were considered sure to reinforce the steadily growing Democratic lead.

Republicans still had a chance in the major contest between Democrat Ernest Gruening and Republican Mike Steppovich for one of the new state's two U.S. Senate seats.

Pulls Ahead

Gruening, appointed governor of Alaska for more than 13 years during Democratic administrations, pulled ahead after the lead changed several times during the night.

Steppovich, who resigned as governor to make the Senate race, was the Republicans' strongest candidate for any major office.

E. L. Bartlett, Alaska's Democratic delegate to Congress for the past 14 years, captured one U.S. Senate seat in a landslide.

Ralph Rivers, Democratic nominee for the single U.S. House seat from Alaska, claimed victory on the basis of the mounting returns.

William Egan, the Democratic choice for governor, was increasing his margin in the race for the first elected governor of Alaska.

The closest major race was between Gruening and Steppovich, another former governor, who had been favored on the basis of a 5,700-vote margin he had posted over Gruening in a primary election three months ago.

With 134 precincts reporting, Bartlett had 13,158 votes in his Senate race against 7,734 for Steppovich. For Alaska's single congressional seat, Democrat Ralph Rivers had 8,878 votes to 7,241 for Republican Henry Benson.

For governor, Democrat William Egan, 44, a Valdez merchant, had 9,753 votes to 5,994 for Republican John Butrovich Jr., 48, a veteran territorial legislator.

Pre-election forecasts favored Democrats in all but the Steppovich-Gruening race, and Republican campaign efforts were concentrated on hopes of salvaging that one Senate seat.

Report Due On Malicious Literature

Mollohan Charges Used Against Him In W. Va. Election

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An investigator is scheduled to report the week of Dec. 15 his findings on a charge by Robert H. Mollohan, Fairmont, W. Va., that unfavorable literature was distributed against him during the recent general election in West Virginia.

Mollohan, Democratic candidate, was defeated Nov. 4 by Republican Arch A. Moore Jr., in the 1st district congressional race.

The House Campaign Committee said Tuesday it would attempt to seek the source of "vicious and malicious literature" Mollohan said was used against him during the campaign.

Mollohan charged that someone distributed a magazine, designed to resemble the United Mine Workers Journal, which contained attacks on him in violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act. The committee said it expected a report about Dec. 15 and would take no further action pending results of the staff inquiry.

The committee also voted to investigate the Kentucky Democratic primary election in which veteran Rep. Noble J. Gregory was defeated.

Fire Destroys Building, Cars

A one-story frame building and two automobiles at Harold Waingold's Used Car Lot, Dingle Hill, were destroyed by fire this morning. No one was injured.

The blaze broke out in the garage of the building, which also houses an office and a waiting room. Firemen said the cars were in the garage for repairs.

The blaze is believed to have originated from sparks coming into contact with an inflammable liquid.

Engine Company No. 3 from West Side answered the call at 10:30 and shortly afterwards a second alarm sent the Central pumper to the scene. Firemen had to lay hose line several hundred yards.

Flames didn't reach the office but fixtures and records were badly damaged by water. The autos destroyed were 1963 and 1956 models. Several hundred other cars are on the lot.

Lewis Report On Coal Pact Set Saturday

Wage Policy Group To Meet; No Details Of Talks Revealed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, will report on progress of his negotiations with northern soft coal producers at a meeting Saturday of his wage policy committee.

The 200-man committee deals only with collective bargaining matters.

Officials of the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association met about whether a new contract covering most of the nation's 186,000 soft coal miners was in the works.

Ever since 1950 Lewis and the coal association have conducted negotiations on a super-secret basis. The association represents about two-thirds of the soft coal industry. Its settlements with the UMW usually set the pattern for all unionized soft coal producers.

In the past the wage policy committee has been summoned here to ratify new agreements.

The UMW refused to confirm or deny the meeting even would take place.

Corn Control Act Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's corn farmers have voted for the end of acreage controls and for lower price supports in a special referendum.

The plan approved by corn-belt farmers in 26 states eliminates acreage controls and fixes price supports at a national average of 90 per cent of the average market price for corn during the three preceding years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

The other choice, rejected by farmers, would have continued the present program with reduced acreage quotas.

Incomplete returns announced by the Agriculture Department showed 209,549 votes for the end of acreage controls and 77,311 for continuance of the current program.

Election Expense

to. Mr. Cook's expenditures totaled $86.07.

Three defeated candidates also filed their reports. James Orr, Republican candidate for county commissioner, listed his expenses at $240 and said he got a $100 contribution from Wallace Close.

Other reports came from George A. Boch, unsuccessful Democrat aspirant for the House of Delegates, and William J. Brode, Democrat, who was fourth in the six-man race for the three county commissioner seats.

Mr. Boch said he spent $82.23 and had no contributions. Mr. Brode listed his expenses at $14.07 and said he received $50 from friends who were not listed.

Ex-Fair Head Dies

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—Walter D. Jackson, 72, former president of the International Assn. of Fairs and Expositions, died Tuesday. He was general manager of the Western Fair, one of Canada's most successful annual exhibitions, for 33 years until his retirement last January.

Smith was at Colorado Springs, Colo., ADC headquarters, in 1954 to attend a national GOC conference. He spoke at each of sessions over a period of three days, explaining the local setup.

His presentation "opened the eyes" of many coordinators representing the 48 states and Canada and a number of them adopted his ideas.

One suggestion made by Smith that the Air Force have a representative in each section to improve coordination between the civilian program and the Air Force was adopted. As a result, the Air Force detailed sector sergeants.

Sgt. Joseph Hodge was assigned here and came in today for high commendation for his efforts from both Barger and Smith.

In a final tribute to the GOC members, Barger and Smith said: "Someday when the history is well-written, perhaps they will receive their just reward."

Derails Train, Maroons Indians: 14-Inch Snow Covers Upper Midwest Area

United Press International

The season's second blizzard sucked bitter cold blasts down from Canada early today in a weather onslaught that dumped 14-inch snows in the upper Midwest, derailed a train, and isolated an Indian tribe and seven communities.

Gale-force winds drove the Arctic air across the northern plains, the upper Mississippi Valley and the upper Great Lakes Tuesday night, and its influence was to be felt south to the Gulf and eastward to the Appalachians.

The main snow belt extended into northern Minnesota, while rain in the path of the 60-mile per hour winds was changed to snow.

Midnight temperatures were below zero at many points along the northern border, while Cut Bank, Mont., logged a 9-below reading and Dickinson, N.D., 4 below.

In the mid Mississippi Valley and the central plains, temperatures were in the 20s and still falling.

The Sioux Indian tribe of the Standing Rock reservation, with about 100 to 120 families, was "hungry, starving and in need of warm clothing," according to tribal council president Theodore Jamerson. Welfare workers were blocked from going in to assess the Indians' needs by snow-clogged roads.

Blames Government

North Dakota state welfare director Carlyle Onsrud blamed "bureaucratic inflexibility" for a legal roadblock that kept $54,000 in an assistance fund when it should have been going to the Indians. The "Indians could conceivably whistle for some weeks more before the aid is provided by the government," he said.

North Dakota was hardest hit. A snow blanket covering the state reached 14 inches at some points, and a Soo Line freight train was swept off the tracks near Napoleon. Three cars tipped over, and a fourth remained upright.

All schools were closed for the rest of the week in the state and officials warned students at the University of North Dakota and North Dakota agricultural campus to remain on campus until the storm had blown over.

Snow continued falling early today across the upper Great Lakes into Michigan, while the core of the cold snap was centered in Iowa and moving eastward.

Los Angeles Snow Increases

A collision of the cold air mass with balmy weather spawned tornado winds near Denver Tuesday. Two persons were injured and 50 homes and carports damaged in a Denver suburb. Damage was set at $100,000.

The West Coast faced a different sort of weather problem. Air pollution experts said an unknown element identified as "component X" was mixed with smog which lingered over Los Angeles the past three days, causing more than 100 traffic accidents. Officials said there was no telling if the increasing smogs would become "killer fogs" such as those that claimed lives at Donora, Pa., and London, England.

Elsewhere in the country, light rains extended from the lower Great Lakes into Arkansas and parts of the Gulf states, while Georgia and North Carolina were hit by scattered thunderstorms.

Today's forecast showed the continued movement of cold weather into the East, snow flurries across the Great Lakes region and the upper Mississippi Valley, and rain mixed with snow in the interior parts of

Eisenhower's Grandchildren Fly To South

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—The four grandchildren of President and Mrs. Eisenhower join them at their vacation retreat today for the Thanksgiving weekend.

The youngsters are scheduled to fly from Washington for turkey dinner Thursday at the Augusta National Golf Club.

The children are being accompanied by their parents, Army Maj. John Eisenhower and his wife Barbara. The family arranged to travel aboard an Air Force courier plane which makes the trip to Augusta almost daily to bring government documents and reports to the President.

Eisenhower's son John, now on the White House staff, will sit in here Friday morning at the President's conference with Pentagon and Budget Bureau officials on military spending.

The conference delegation from Washington will include Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy; Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and Budget Director Maurice H. Stans.

Morocco Unrest Has Government Nearing Collapse

RABAT, Morocco (UPI)—The Moroccan government was on the verge of collapse today because of unrest among rebellious tribesmen. Premier Ahmed Balfrej was expected to resign during the day.

Balfrej met Tuesday with King Mohammed V and said he would make an "important statement" today. It was considered almost certain this referred to his resignation.

Balfrej's resignation would plunge this fledgling nation into its second government crisis in eight months. He solved the last one by forming a government May 12 following the resignation of Premier Si Bekkal.

The crisis was reported provoked by a cabinet split over whether a crackdown should be ordered on tribesmen who have been stirring up anti-government unrest for the past month.

Pennsylvania, New York and New England. Snow flurries also were expected over the central and southern Rockies, and California and northern Nevada were due for scattered rains.

One Killed, Three Hurt In Blast Of Fireworks

MILLINGTON, Md. (AP)—Two explosions shattered a shack at a fireworks plant near this Kent County town yesterday, killing one man and injuring three others.

The blasts ripped through one of six small buildings which make up the branch plant of the Hayre de Grace Fireworks Co. Inc. The plant is located just south of here, Queen Annes County.

Leslie Chester Jones, 25, of Churchville, Harford County, died at Kent and Queen Annes County Hospital in Chestertown. He suffered internal injuries.

The injured were George Edward Burris, 29, of Sudlersville; Earl Cahall, 49, and Oscar Smith, 36, both of Millington. Burris and Cahall were in the Chestertown hospital in fair condition with burns and cuts of the head, face, legs and arms. Smith was treated for minor cuts.

State Police, who pieced the story together, gave this account: Jones, a foreman, and Burris were in the shack late in the afternoon repairing a machine used in loading firecrackers.

Jones told Burris to turn the flywheel, as the wheel completed one revolution, there was a sudden explosion. Jones was trapped in the wreckage and Burris was cut and burned.

Smith and Cahall went to the assistance of Jones and Burris was being led away when there was a second explosion.

Smith told police it was his first—and also his last—day on the job.

Burris said an explosion at the plant last year sent him to the hospital.

It is believed the second blast was touched off when a spark got into a powder box. Cause of the first explosion was still a mystery.

State Police said the first blast hurled pieces of the shack as far as 165 feet. The other buildings were not damaged.

A small blaze set off by the explosions was put out by the Millington Fire Department.

Six men and five women are employed at the plant. Its chief product is firecrackers.

Special Service
Southminster Presbyterian Church will hold a Thanksgiving service tomorrow at 10 a. m. Rev. T. Wilbur Lawton, pastor, will deliver the holiday message.

World Pays Tribute To Kettering

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—Tribute was paid today to Charles F. Kettering, 82, world-famed inventor and philanthropist who died at his home near here Tuesday of a cerebral hemorrhage.

"Boss Ket" as he was affectionately known to thousands, died at 2:43 p.m. e.s.t. He never regained consciousness from the second of two strokes suffered since Sunday night.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Friday in Dayton's Christ Episcopal Church, with burial at Woodland Cemetery here. The body will be on view from noon until 9 p.m. Thursday and from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Friday at the Dayton Engineering Club.

Called the last of the auto industry's "linking geniuses," an executive with a "wrench," the General Motors board member and former vice president was best known for his invention of the automobile self-starter.

Never content with things as they were, his constant search to improve things accounted for more than 200 patents, including the electrically-operated cash register, tetraethyl lead, the high compression auto engine, improved automotive finishes, freon refrigerant, two-cycle diesel engines and an artificial fever therapy device.

Expressions of grief at the death of the kindly genius who began life as a chore boy on his father's farm near Londonville, Ohio, came from far and wide.

Alfred P. Sloan Jr., with whom he founded the Sloan-Kettering Institute for cancer research in 1945, said his death was a "grave personal loss."

Frederic G. Dunner, board chairman of GM, said the "nation has lost an outstanding citizen and the world a truly great humanitarian."

Samuel B. Gould, president of Antioch College, said "the passing of Charles F. Kettering is more than the passing of a man. It is the changing of a life into a legend, a life which brought untold material goods to America and the world."

Two Bobcats Are Inducted

Thomas Bowers and Joseph Appell were inducted as Bobcats during a recent meeting of Cub Pack 9 sponsored by Cresapawn Methodist Church.

A number of awards were made by Paul Glessner, cubmaster. Two den mothers, Mrs. Chancy and Mrs. Whitacre, were presented with pins.

The value of the uniform, the proper care and dress was discussed by Grady H. Wolford, chairman of the Pack. Jay Miller, den chief demonstrated the talk on uniforms. Each den had displays on the November theme, "See It and Do It Show." The meeting was opened with the flag salute led by Den Chief Miller and was closed by Mr. Glessner with the living circle.

Salisbury Paper Seeks New Libel Suit Trial

SALISBURY (AP) — Publishers far as possible and replaced with of The Salisbury Times will ask corrected editions. Attorneys for Pollitt said that for a new trial in the libel suit, "malicious seeds of defamation brought against them by Wilcom had been sown" by the story "as Ico County Sheriff Jesse M. Pollitt, formulated plan to wreck the verdict from the Brush-Moore sheriff." They said the auditors Newspapers Inc. of Canton, Ohio, recommendation "reflected a dereliction of duty on the part of the publishers of the Times. county commissioners" rather than on the sheriff. The trial was moved to Worcester County jury at Snow Hill after the three circuit judges presiding had directed a verdict in Pollitt's favor. The sheriff had sought $50,000.

The trial was moved to Worcester County at the request of attorneys for the Times after the Court of Appeals reversed a dismissal of the suit and ordered further proceedings. The State court held that an auditor's report on the conduct of the sheriff's office and other county offices was not a privileged document. The audit is made annually for the county commissioners. One error of fact had been made in the Times' account of the audit quoted the report as stating one on Nov. 14, 1956. The Times part of the sheriff's records were "incomplete" instead of "complete." Witnesses for the Times testified that the error had been caught early in the press run and the incorrect papers were recalled as were absent.

Plan Formed To Discourage Block-Busting

Racial Changing Neighborhoods Subject Of Talks

BALTIMORE (AP)—A broad plan to try to insure orderly transition in racially changing neighborhoods was outlined at a conference here yesterday.

One purpose would be to open all areas of the city to Negroes. At the same time, it would aim at discouraging "block-busting"—selling to a Negro family in a block occupied by whites, with the result that white families make a hasty exit.

Some 100 persons representing civic organizations, real estate firms and government agencies, studied the problem at the day-long meeting, called the "conference on Changing Neighborhoods." By the time the group vote on the plan, only about half that number were present.

A main purpose of the proposed program would be to check deterioration of property values and lowering of the social and moral climate. A private agency would take on the task of implementing the program.

Some of the main points: The agency would fight block-busting by enlisting support of responsible realtors and discouraging unscrupulous speculators.

It would try to stimulate rental and sales on the basis of a person's financial status and cultural background—not his color.

It would emphasize advantages of city life to promote sale of homes in the city's residential neighborhoods.

To carry out its programs, the agency would enlist support of such organizations as real estate firms, lending institutions, church groups, labor organizations and State agencies.

Girl Scouting Leaders Meet

The sixth session of a leadership course for new leaders in Girl Scouting will be held from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock tonight at the Girl Scout House.

A shift in location from Cresaptown Methodist Church to the Girl Scout House has been made for this one session only so the prospective leaders can learn more about the program and resources available there.

There will be two work groups, one for the Brownie Scout program and the proficiency badges in the intermediate scout program. Mrs. Ruby Adams is the instructor, assisted by Miss Olive Hurlbert.

The remaining two sessions will be held December 3 and 10 at the Cresaptown Methodist Church. Leaders from other courses are invited to make up training sessions at any of these last three meetings.

Cresaptown Church To Conduct Service

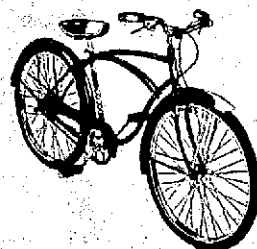

A Thanksgiving worship service will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. in Cresaptown Methodist Church.

Music will be provided by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Martin C. Johnson. Rev. Robert E. Bavender, pastor, will bring the message, "Thanksgiving A Challenge." He and his wife extend an invitation to families of the community to bring their dinner and share in an old-fashioned Thanksgiving feast and fellowship.

Additional Polio Cases Are Reported

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Four new polio cases were reported in West Virginia last week, three in Raleigh County and one in Ohio County, the State Health Department said Tuesday. Twelve new cases were reported the previous week.

Health Director N. H. Dyer said so far this year, 193 cases of polio have been reported in the Mountain State compared to 49 during the corresponding period in 1957.

The number of new cases of influenza-like diseases last week declined only slightly from the 218 the week before, Dyer said. There have been 11,400 such cases reported so far this year, a sharp decline from the 114,368 on record for the comparable period last year.

Fleming Named Legion Post Finance Officer

Leroy Fleming, who resigned as three-year trustee of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, in Ridgeley, last night assumed duties as finance officer, the post to which he had been elected.

In other business at a post executive board meeting, Robert Magruder, who had been elected three-year trustee, assumed his duties.

Big Medical Center Set At Towson

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three hospitals now serving the Baltimore area plan to join forces in building a new 10-million dollar medical center at nearby Towson in Baltimore County. They announced plans yesterday to establish the new center by 1964. It will be constructed on the 350-acre tract in Towson now occupied by Sheppard-Pratt.

Thanksgiving Service Scheduled Tomorrow

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, will conduct a Thanksgiving service tomorrow, 11 a. m. A lesson-sermon for the day entitled "Thanksgiving" will emphasize the importance of giving one's gratitude to God.

Nixon Finds Friend Among GOP Editors

LOS ANGELES — One great consolation is vouchsafed Vice President Nixon in his dark hour which sees the Republican run, like the real one, rising in the East and settling in the West.

Norman Chandler and the Los Angeles Times are still strongly for him. They will act on the premise that the Republican party in California, the state which will soon lead the nation in population and political power, must be rebuilt around Nixon.

In a rare interview, publisher Chandler was outspoken about this and many other matters which politicians handle gingerly. His candor reflects a self-assurance based on his very nearly unique power.

THOUGH THEY are little known outside the West, Chandler and the Times have been a major force in the long Republican domination of the Golden State. Many a California vote is cast in unexpected ways in the Congress of the United States because "the word" came that it was their wish.

Their granite base is both political and economic. One-third of California votes in sprawling Los Angeles County; its material splendors are legendary. The Times and the Chandler economy empire have correspondingly expanded.

MANY important publishers are Republicans, as Democrats like to point out. Few, however, take the party straight with no chaser as Chandler does. He is probably the leading GOP press panjandrum since the demise of Colonel McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, though he is utterly without the fetching eccentricities which enlarged the colonel's audience if not his influence.

Nov. 4 last saw Chandler and the Republican candidates and policies he backed crushingly defeated all down the line. Democrats not only elected a Governor and Senator by huge majorities; they ousted a whole dynasty of entrenched state office-holders and will control the Legislature. Democrats will do the re-apportionment which will define the state's increased political power.

CHANDLER sees this GOP debacle as due primarily to a trend, but it is clear that the candidates, who manned the barricades did not earn his admiration.

He believes that Senator William F. Knowland, who lost the Governorship by a million votes, will return to the management of the Knowland family newspaper, the Oakland Tribune. And he adds wryly: "At least, I hope so."

Of Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, who had wanted to run for reelection but stepped aside for Knowland and consented to try for a new career in the Senate, Chandler said simply, "He's through."

THE CHANDLER view of the Eisenhower Presidency is that it suffers from lack of leadership, which hurt Republicans everywhere. With the rather detached kind of humor which repeatedly lightened the interview, he commented, "The President is even more naive politically than I am."

Chandler contended, with the only real heat he showed during the discussion, that Vice President Nixon would show leadership — that he was aggressive, a "door," a leader who could and would make decisions. He expressed the view that Nixon would probably be "to the left" of Eisenhower, but it was clear that he saw the Eisenhower center as a dead center rather than a philosophy of moderation.

Asked how anyone of his conservative opinions could support a President moving to the left, he said he felt Nixon would do his best to be a strong and good President.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—Along with many other persons, Fate has been good to me in the matter of when to belt down a nip of Bourbon or a slug of Scotch and I have not thus far had to yell for an AA messenger at 2 o'clock in the morning or consult a psychiatrist at 4:30 a session to overcome a parched thirst.

This probably accounts for my not knowing R. Brinkley Smithers, President of the National Council on Alcoholism; I didn't even know the council existed. But as one possessed of no alcoholism demon, yet ready to toe up to the mahogany when the occasion rises, let me say that I think Mr. Smithers is four yards off base.

IT IS HIS earnest contention that the only safe time to bolt down a hoggin of the creature is when one is happy. The sad or depressed or moody person is the one in peril, he says, and no man clad in a deep purple mood should ever pick up a blast for himself.

Unwilling to deny this on my own, I consulted a dozen bartenders of New York in a sort of cross-section running from the men's bar at the Waldorf, a tony oasis, to a Third Avenue snug where drinks are only 30 cents each and you can imagine the quality.

Each one of the twelve gave exactly the same answer: Look out for the happy man, the one all full of bonhomie and love for his neighbor, because he is the one most likely to end up as drunk as a skunk and looking for a fight while the moody, depressed citizen will crawl off into a quiet corner or take a mooning far down at the end of the bar and do his slow, careful, lonely drinking in perfect safety.

The depressed man doesn't want to talk to anyone, doesn't want to enter into the spirit of the occasion, doesn't want to slap any backs, tell any parlor jokes or be a hale fellow. He just wants to be left alone and is more likely to be a slow sipper than a generous bender.

"I GET ALL kinds in here, I do, for a fact," said Timothy Muldoon, of a Third Avenue trough, "and I will say for public print that I'd rather deal with the poor, lonely soul whose wife or sweetheart has just disillusioned him than with Carnival Charlie with the jackass laugh and the hearty manner."

Rum Can Really Be Demon

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V. I.—I never thought when Hilda and I came to the Virgin Islands for a vacation that I'd have to get up on my feet before an audience and defend myself for writing a story more than 20 years ago about the terrible-tempered Mr. Bang, the late Harold Ickes, and his back-firing do-goodism in the tropics.

But here I found myself addressing the local Rotary Club, by request, on the terrace of the beautiful Blue Beard Castle Hotel, scene of the original crime. This was the tale I had to tell the leading citizens:

IN THE LONG ago, when I was a Washington reporter covering the Interior Department then headed by Honest Harold, his idea to help the poverty-ridden Virgin Islands was to build a hotel de luxe to attract tourists. This he did.

He built it around the ruins of Pirate Blue Beard's lookout tower on a hill overlooking the harbor. Ickes' architects, who'd spent their lives designing government buildings, built a truly handsome structure on a foundation blasted from solid rock.

When they'd finished it and had the grand opening, they discovered they'd overlooked installation of a boiler to provide the guests with hot water. This was doubly serious because there was no place available in the rock beneath the hotel to put a hot-water plant.

ICKES' hotel managers tried to remedy this by using makeshift electric water heaters, but the paying customers more often than not had to take their baths cold. They achieved a further feeling of being pioneers in the wilderness when they discovered the government architects had put no closets in any of the bedrooms. That still wasn't all.

This new hotel, owned and operated by the U. S. government,

"Charlie is the one, an hour from now, who will be the show-off first and then the reincarnation of Gentleman Jim Corbett offering to take the curs off his best friend. The poor little man back there in the glooms will be good for four hours and still walk out without a sway to his legs."

IN THE MEN'S bar at the Waldorf, where they do not encourage overindulgence in alcoholic beverages and assume that an adult male has sense enough to know when he has had enough, the boys at the mahogany are all for the gloomy, lonely solo quaffer. They feel for him, they throw him a sympathetic thought every now and then and leave him alone.

He won't bother anybody and like as not will never get himself squiffed. All he wants is to be left alone to think his brooding thoughts over how dirty a trick Mary Jane played on him the last time he saw her.

"THE WORST you can expect from the broken-hearted citizen, either ready to cry inside silently and invisibly over a woman or over the injustice he suffers at the office, is an occasional quiet little mutter to himself," said Henry.

"He will be off down there in an area of his own, not a bent elbow near him, and you may distantly hear him say to himself: 'How do you like a dame like that?' Or, if it's about some foul-up at the office, he may growl: 'I ought to have told him, right off. I'm a mutt for taking that guff off a guy like that.'"

"But no trouble. He doesn't suddenly get rubber-band legs. He's a gentleman, even if a sad one. Poor soul."

SO THERE it is, Smithers. It's old skytalking Charlie. Laughing Roy, the bartenders fear. They wince when they see him coming. They know he will work his way up and down the length of the bar breathing hearty fellowship, slapping backs and working himself up into a royal souse. No stranger in the place may remain one as long as Mr. Happiness is on the premises. He has to let the whole world know how good things are going for him, meanwhile lapping up the sauce like a dog that has just run across the desert in July.

I think you got it backwards, chum.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Panning television is a popular indoor sport today — among critics at the typewriter as well as critics on the hearth.

There is no doubt that television has been a disappointment in several ways.

It hasn't cured the common cold. It hasn't solved the problem of unemployment. It is even questionable whether it has made most people drink more beer or brush their teeth oftener.

These facts must be faced fairly in any honest assessment of television's role in creating the better way of life and a more cultured race.

Alas, it is all too true. Perfection has not come out of that one-eyed Pandora's box in the living room.

ON THE OTHER hand, in its own imperfect way television has done considerable good. And while in our house every member of the family has considered throwing out our set, at one time or another, we never have quite got around to doing it.

Critics of television complain against it not so much for what it is, as for what they feel it could be.

They feel it should take more positive stands on vital issues, and be a more powerful cultural force.

Frankly, we can't go along with them on this. We feel that in our house there already are too many powerful cultural forces operating, and certainly all the powerful stands on vital issues we need.

There are many evenings in which we prefer to be entertained, rather than be big-brothered by some pundit who is sure he knows the only true answer to the future.

Nor do we care too often to have our young daughter reply, when a neighbor kid knocks on the door while the TV set is showing a brain operation, "Come back later, Joe. We're in surgery."

AS ENTERTAINMENT goes, however, we find TV's present bill-of-fare pretty satisfying.

By and large, there's something for everybody.

My wife likes a good drama. I like the children's programs, our daughter likes the gory Westerns, and our cat cries real tears over "Lassie." We no longer have to trudge through the winter snow to see a second-rate movie.

All I have to do to cure my Sunday afternoon insomnia is to tune in on some such topic as, "Whether the Hydrogen Bomb," or "Fear Versus Freud," and stretch out on the couch.

Morpheus and peace arrive moments later, and I rise refreshed.

What's wrong with television? As that fellow in the cereal commercial says, "When you've got a good thing, let it alone." Let's not improve it to death.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — It is truly astounding how many photographs there are of Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson when you consider the limitations he imposes. He allows few occasions when his picture can be taken. The tall Texan, with the wide ambitions, will not permit anyone to photograph him while he is talking.

This narrows the minutes that he is photographable down to a precious few because the head Democrat has never been accused of being a man of few words. He is also inquisitive, and upspoken and downspoken. In fact, everywhere spoken. Even when he's driving alone down a Texas back road he is spoken. He is talking on his car telephone to one of his lieutenants here in Washington. It is seldom a two-way conversation.

The man who has become, in some ways, more powerful than the President (whom he would adore to be nonetheless) has a look of boyish frankness. But he wants pictures of his open countenance closed.

I had occasion to observe a manifestation of this phobia at his latest press conference. I hadn't intended to cover it, but was caught in a mob pressing toward the conference room on the top floor of the Capitol. I sort of wish I had just heard about it secondhand, so I'd have a fresher approach.

MR. JOHNSON CAME in and sat down. He removed his bifocals and assumed a smile that would have been envied by the frozen, cowering people. How he kept that smile set without losing a lacquer spray I cannot tell, but he went through the entire ordeal without musing a muscle.

The photographers, selfless fellows, told him not to mind them but proceed with his conference. They said they'd catch him from time to time as he talked. This produced a fascinating feat that probably has never been rivaled in the history of ventriloquism. Moving his lips less than Edgar Bergen, the Democratic leader smiled that there would be no pictures while he was talking, but that if the phobias wanted more shots he would pose for them; again after the conference was over.

The cameramen who cover the Capitol informed me later that the candid majority leader candidly named the candid shot of himself some time back. They believe it coincided roughly with the time he began talking like a candidate for President.

DESPITE HIS augmented powers, however, Senator Johnson has not lost any of his animation off-camera. He treated us to so much charm a couple of the newspapermen feared he might be mistaking us for new Democratic Senators. He didn't even permit himself a show of annoyance when a correspondent, who makes a hobby of tossing enraging questions at Vice President Nixon, asked: "Do you see the recent election as a mandate to do anything?"

The Majority Leader went on charming us the way he charms other Senators and is reported to be charming President Eisenhower. Senator Johnson mentioned, in an offhand manner, that he had gone down to the White House to see the President, but we got the impression that this was just because he took the initiative and it could just as easily have been he coming up to the Capitol to see him.

Anyone who underestimates the powers to which Senator Johnson has attained is practicing self-deception. By his charm and organizational genius, the Majority Leader can achieve the amazing. But, if he really goes after the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 I don't see how he can stick by his no-photographs-while-talking dictum.

If he does, he'll be the first presidential aspirant of modern times in silent pictures.

A Day For Thanks

WE HAVE SO MUCH to be thankful for. This is the day when our universal prayers should flow heavenward across the breadth of America. This is a day for turkey, a day for yams and mince pie. But first of all, it is a feast of thanksgiving, humble recognition of the privilege of life and for the fruits of the field which keep it sustained. Such is human anxiety that most individuals feel assailed and endangered. There are only brief moments of security and peacefulness in the mind. And as we read our daily papers with their review of the woes of the world it is difficult to appreciate that with all the perils and fears, we here in America are blessed beyond measurement.

ON THANKSGIVING we have a day set aside for just such an appraisal. As the family gathers about the festive table there should be no more appropriate moment for such a stock-taking. It is no wonder that the Pilgrims have been a lasting symbol of this holiday. When they celebrated the first Thanksgiving they were sorely beset. Far from home, we can only imagine their loneliness and sad dreams of once familiar scenes. There were real physical dangers only yards from their crude homes. The Indians and forest animals could be lurking there.

NO MODERN American, used to stacks of canned goods in nearby supermarkets, could summon up in his mind what food meant to these Pilgrims. The winter could be lived through only if enough food was amassed during the growing months. It was grow or die. Our problems today are threatening. But in comparison with the frightening plight of the Pilgrims we can see that, really, few who have lived have ever been so secure and shared such plenty as we have. Our storehouses are overflowing. Medical science has lengthened life expectancy. While each individual's life may not bring the recognition or the good things he might wish for, the meaneast among us has a life which the Pilgrims could envy. There is much to be thankful for. And this is the day to make this inventory and give thanks to the Almighty who guides our destiny.

THERE IS A report that U.S. officialdom has come to regard the Soviet menace as overrated. Let's hope this is more a matter of fact than of opinion.

Lure Of Farm Land

THE DEPARTMENT of Agriculture predicts that net farm income will drop from 5 to 10 per cent in 1959, largely because the price of hogs and wheat will be down. Next year's soil bank payments also will be reduced with elimination of the acreage reserve program, which is bringing farmers 700 million dollars this year. The department also expects farmers to pay slightly more for machinery, taxes, interest and labor. Yet while this squeeze between lower income and higher costs will bring protests, there is good evidence that the situation has not shaken long-term faith in agriculture. The price of farm land is again going up. Prof. Gale Johnson, a University of Chicago agricultural economist, wonders why. Farmers complain, he says, but they continue to buy more land in a rising market. In Iowa, for example, land that now sells for $500 an acre brought only about half that much 10 years ago. The main reason given for the price increase is the trend toward larger farms. The appeal and promise of land runs strong in the efficient farmer. Land is not only an inflation hedge; it is solid and tangible. If there isn't reward in every harvest and profit in every hog, farmers say to themselves, there's always another year when this may be so. And then a bit more land might help.

THE NAVY PLANS to photograph Mars from 80,000 feet up to find out about its water supply. If it's water they want, maybe they'd better go down instead of up.

INFLATION is spreading in Russia, and for once the Kremlin is not bragging about having something bigger than the one in the United States.

Little Chance Of Thaw In Icy China

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Here and there sensitive antennae have been picking up signals which some read as indicating a slight softening of America's policy toward Red China. The administration's answer to that is a resounding "na."

The signals suggested nothing so drastic as either U. S. recognition of Peking or our favoring its admission to the United Nations.

Speculation has ranged toward a possible lowering of existing barriers to contact, with perhaps some beginnings of trade, an easing of travel restrictions, and establishment of informational and cultural exchanges.

SOURCES of this conjecture are elusive. Some think it may have started after Nationalist China's Chian Kai-shek renounced the use of force in any effort to regain the Chinese mainland — except in event of a revolutionary uprising there.

The feeling may have developed that this switch reflected new American thinking toward Red China itself.

But if such a change does in fact impend, no sign of it can be had from government sources. The unequivocal response gained there is that no change has taken place and none is likely.

This government's position is that it is Peking, not Washington which puts the rigid concrete in relations between the two countries.

It is contended that repeatedly in conferences with Red China, in Korea, at Geneva, and currently in Warsaw, we have shown earnest intent to modify our stand and seek relaxation of tensions in return for similar action on the other side.

In every instance, even up to this moment, we have been rebuffed and confronted with demands which call for total surrender by us.

BEYOND this political and military realm, the administration seriously questions whether any significant good could come from allowing broader contacts between Americans and the Red Chinese.

We are still willing to permit an already specified number of U. S. newspapers and news agencies to put representatives in China. Their validated passports are updated. It is Peking that bars their way today.

Nothing else we are ready to do. Our diplomats point to Russia, with whom we now have far fuller contacts than before, as evidence that the gain is slight. They see the Soviet Union's aggressive hostility toward the free world as greater than ever.

The administration believes there is no warrant for change toward Peking, that Red China is at a high point of hostility, bent as always upon the conquest of all Asia. To yield at any point, whether Quemoy-Matsu or another, is to begin to give away the game.

Looking Backward

25 YEARS AGO
November 26, 1933
Sunday

PROJECT REPORTED—The Celanese Corporation of America, which employs upward of 6,000 persons at its Amcelle plant on McMillen Highway, reportedly is contemplating a half-million dollar addition to present buildings and equipment. A large number of local and out-of-town contractors are submitting bids which will be considered on or about December 1.

SUBMIT APPLICATION—Cumberland may be one of several hundred cities to be included in a program for the establishment of airports and landing fields being considered by the Department of Commerce. The local Chamber of Commerce made formal application yesterday to be included in a Civil Works Administration project in which $10,000,000 is to be expended.

ELECTED—Walter B. Rice, formerly of Cumberland, was elected city councilman from the Sixth Ward in Akron.

50 YEARS AGO

PATROL WAGON NEEDED — The need of a patrol wagon in this city, we presume, is not disputed. Money for its purchase has been appropriated, a place has been fitted up at Central Fire Station, and the public is somewhat puzzled to understand why it is not installed as a part of the police system in Cumberland. This thing of dragging violent and disorderly persons a long distance through the streets is not only demoralizing as a spectacle, but it is really not fair to exact it of the policeman. The committee in charge of the Police Department ought to supply this equipment without any further procrastination.

DIVORCE — For the 20-year period 1887-1906 there were 945,625 divorces in the United States. In the like 20-year period ending with 1886 the number was 328,716. Divorces are increasing three times as fast as the population. There is nearly one for every 12 marriages at present.

Post Office To Observe Holiday

The various windows of the Cumberland Post Office will be closed tomorrow in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon said there will be special delivery and box service during the day. The Veterans Administration Office in the Post Office building will also be closed tomorrow.

Holiday Service Stated At Church

A special Thanksgiving Day service will be held at First Evangelical United Brethren Church Thursday at 8 a. m., Rev. Dr. E. Miller, pastor, announced last night.

The service will be preceded by a fellowship breakfast sponsored by the Youth Fellowship. Robert Shuman, president of the youth group, will be in charge of the breakfast program.

Rev. Dr. Miller will deliver the Thanksgiving message and a World Service offering will be taken.

To Attend Meeting

Bruce M. Bruner of the Hiser Supply Company, Cumberland, will attend a Kentile distributors conference November 30 to December 2 at Essex House Hotel, New York.

SAVE FATHER'S LIFE — Brothers Charles, left, and Robert Olson are shown visiting their father, Dr. Charles A. Olson, St. Paul, Minn., who is recovering in a Farmington, Minn., hospital after his sons saved his life by using a kitchen knife to open his blocked windpipe Sunday. Dr. Olson choked on a piece of ham

at a wedding anniversary dinner. The brothers used a paring knife to open the doctor's windpipe and give him air. They used the barrel of a fountain pen as a breathing tube for the incision. Doctors credited the pair with saving their father's life.

Legislators To Hear Education Plan

The Allegany County legislators will hear a proposal to establish a branch of the Maryland Department of Research and Education at a meeting December 1.

Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, said the meeting will be held December 1 at 7:30 p. m. in the Union Street County Building.

The meeting is being arranged, he said, at the request of Don A. Emerson, teacher of conservation and natural resources at Frostburg State Teachers College, who is spearheading the drive for the Allegany County branch.

Present for the meeting will be Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director of the commission.

The meeting is one of many which will be held by the Allegany County Delegation and Senator Charles M. See in preparation for the 1959 session of the General Assembly.

The department was created in 1941 to study and promote conservation work in the state. It conducts three major programs: Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons Island, Md., for, to speak on the "Crown of an Inland Resources Division and Thanksgiving."

TB Association Notes Lag In Sale Of Seals

The sale of Christmas Seals by the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association are running behind sales made in 1957.

Miss Jean M. Reinhard, executive secretary of the association, said yesterday $5,506.40 has been collected from the two counties during the first week of the seal drive.

She said during the same period last year $6,179.85 was collected. The figure for the first week this year is a drop of $593.45 from 1957.

A breakdown of the collection this year shows $4,040.15 was sent in by residents of Allegany County and the remaining $746.25 was donated by Garrett County residents.

Miss Reinhard said the first follow-up letter will be sent out Friday. She said this is done to remind people the association needs their contributions, and to help the files of the association.

Last year the association raised $18,667.12 in its sale of Christmas seals. Officials of the drive for the two counties hope that $20,000 will be raised this year.

Funds raised in the annual drives by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association are used to continue the association's program of eliminating tuberculosis from the state.

Money is used for work in finding cases of the disease, educational projects for victims and workers, medical and social research, and services to patients in and out of hospitals.

Kiwanians Plan Church Service

Members of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club will attend church in a group on Thanksgiving Day as a project of the supporting of churches committee of the club.

They will meet at First Presbyterian Church at 10:15 a. m. tomorrow to attend the 10:30 union Thanksgiving service.

Captain Daniel K. Biggs, chairman of the Kiwanis support of churches committee, also has distributed prayer tents to various downtown restaurants for use at Thanksgiving. These tents, to be placed on tables, list three blessings which are appropriate for persons of Protestant, Roman Catholic or Jewish faith.

In the 1890's about 200 hours were required to make a section of plate glass. Today it takes less than nine hours.

The picture has changed, but the spirit abides...

It is a far cry from the scene of the first Thanksgiving to the festive tables in modern, efficient homes at which we celebrate the holiday today. But, basic to the proper observance of the Day is the same spirit of devout thankfulness for the blessings vouchsafed to us by a Divine Providence... the same steadfast dedication to maintaining those freedoms for which the founders of our country braved the hazards of the New World.

City Street Ordinance Upheld By High Court

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A Morgantown ordinance which relieved the city of the responsibility of maintaining a 200-foot section of a street was upheld Tuesday by the West Virginia Supreme Court.

The high court said in a 4-0 opinion written by President Judge Frank C. Haymond that the Morgantown City Council has the power to "lay off, vacate, close, open, alter, curb, pave and keep in good repairs" all city streets.

Judge Robert Donley of Morgantown disqualified himself.

The ordinance had been voided by the Monongalia County Circuit Court after Christopher and Flor-once Brouzas protested the city should continue to maintain a "turn-around" at the end of their street, Cox's Place.

City officials had argued that Brouzas did not need the turn-around because they had two other outlets and the use of a driveway belonging to another couple.

In dismissing the case at the cost of the Brouzas, the high court said the evidence did not show that the "vacation of the portion of Cox's Place by adoption of the ordinance has resulted or will result in any special or peculiar damage or inconvenience to the plaintiff beyond that which will affect them in common with the public or owners of the other lots which abut on that street."

Joint Services Are Scheduled

Three local churches, Ebenezer Baptist, McKendree Methodist and Metropolitan A. M. E., will hold a joint Thanksgiving service tomorrow at 11 a. m. at Ebenezer Church.

Rev. Charles E. Walden Sr., pastor of Metropolitan A. M. E. Church, will be the principal speaker. Music will be provided by the combined choirs of the churches.

Rise In Steel Orders Points To Better Days

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pointing to a continued increase in orders for steel, Iron Age said today "it's beginning to look more and more as though business is finally snapping out of its negative frame of mind."

Some of the increased business is coming from the automotive industry, but a much broader cross-section of the economy "is getting in on the act," the authoritative trade magazine said.

Another angle to the improvement, the magazine said, is that steel users have started to rebuild inventories after months of living off the stocks they had on hand when the recession hit.

Iron Age said the current recovery in steel—which has lifted production to about three-quarters of capacity—has come without too much help from oil and gas, construction and the railroads.

"But these industries should be coming back into the market after the turn of the year," it stated. "Iron Age offered this rundown of the current auto situation:

"Most automakers are resorting to overtime to maintain a high level of output. Still, they are playing their steel inventories close to the vest. They are using

Business Scene Appearing Brighter

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—You can find plenty to be thankful for Thursday if you try.

Look over the business scene and just for one day at least put aside worries about the queasy stock market, the disturbing world trouble spots, the high cost of living (and the fears it may go higher later on), burdensome taxes (and the threat that they may go higher still), and the hard core of unemployment.

Just remember how much better a lot of things look today than a few months back.

The turkey on your Thanksgiving table costs a little less this year than last. And the government says food prices may ease enough for awhile to keep its cost of living index on the same even keel it has held since July.

Fears of further inflation, especially of the runaway kind, are easing a bit now, too.

They are, based largely on expectations of continuing federal deficits and of still more twists in the wage-price spiral. But Washington now tells us that rising tax collections next year and the government's new determination to hold down spending should keep the coming year's deficit lower than first feared.

Business earnings are picking up. They're not back to where they were last Thanksgiving, but they're healthier than they were last Easter. If profits continue to improve, it will make the stocks you hold look safer and the returns on them as good or better. Corporations have learned cost paring tricks that partly offset rising wage scales. This can hold down prices or steady profits or both.

Industrial output has been rising, bringing some of the jobless back to work and lengthening the work week for others. The government says manufacturers' new

Pair Enters Guilty Pleas To Muggings

Judge Withholds Sentencing Pending Investigation Report

Two young men who figured in three "muggings" on November 6 entered pleas of guilty to assault and robbery when they were tried this morning in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The accused men were George Robert Keller, 23, of 239 Henderson Avenue, and Robert E. Flynn, Jr., 22, of Washington, formerly of this city.

They were tried before Judge Morgan C. Harris, who withheld sentencing until reports are made on investigation of the two men's background.

Waived Indictments

The two men had waived their rights to indictment by a grand jury and agreed to be tried on the basis of criminal information furnished by State's attorney James S. Gelly.

Edwin R. Lilly read statements obtained from the two men—one by Keller, on November 7, and the other by Flynn on November 12.

The only discrepancy in the two statements was that each man said the other did the actual beating in the muggings.

The three victims testified of the sudden approach from the rear, being held by one, and having their wallets lifted.

Two of the three, Joseph A. McKenzie, 74, of 208 Columbia Street, and James G. Zink, 47, of 619 North Mechanic Street, said they were beaten, but neither could identify the one who actually hit them in the face.

A third, Herman Dicken, 59, of 218 Bedford Street, was held but was not struck.

Keller and Flynn pleaded guilty to robbing McKenzie and Dicken, and to assault with intent to rob Zink.

Money Taken

McKenzie had $12 stolen from him, and Dicken had the same amount. Zink said he had money in his pocket, but it was not taken. His wallet was taken, however.

McKenzie, the most seriously injured, was hospitalized for two weeks and suffered fractures of the facial bones and nose, and the right of his left eye has been impaired, according to Dr. Thomas J. Lewis who testified for the State.

Gelly, in summing up the case, had high praise for Chief of Police R. E. Flynn, saying that in this case he "put the duties of his office over his natural love and affection for his own son."

Cooperated Fully

Chief Flynn cooperated fully with the State's attorney in apprehending his own son, giving him information the following morning, and reported on his "haunts" in Washington. He also went to Washington, turned his son over to county authorities without obtaining counsel for him. Judge Harris noted that this type of crime, "mugging," has been known only to citizens here by reading of these acts of violence in metropolitan areas.

The people of Cumberland are entitled to walk the streets without fear in their hearts and the only one way to assure their safety is by punishment, he added.

Thomas B. Finnan, counsel for Flynn, urged psychiatric treatment for the defendant.

Edward J. Ryan, attorney for Keller, pointed out his client and family has suffered as a result, and urged the court's leniency.

Sister Louise Dies At Hospital

Sister Louise of the Daughters of Charity died this morning at Sacred Heart Hospital where she had been stationed 11 years.

Sister Louise had been supervisor of the men's hall, St. John's, since she was assigned to Cumberland. She had worked yesterday.

Sister Louise was born in Houston, Texas, and joined the religious order on June 12, 1902. The body will be on the second floor of the hospital after 2 p. m. today.

A requiem high mass will be celebrated on Friday at 9 a. m. in St. Patrick's Church by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Kilgenny, pastor, and interment will be in the parish cemetery.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Claude Foster, Huston, Texas, who recently visited her at the hospital.

She was born December 14, 1882 a daughter of the late Zachary T. and Ellen Thesa (Hill) Anderson.

GOC Setup Ends In January But Other Work Remains

By JOHN BYRD JR.
Evening Times Staff Writer

"Because we have a better burglar alarm does not mean the end of burglars," Civil Defense officials said here today in urging more volunteers for the Allegany County Civil Defense organization.

The plea is aimed at the public in general and the 1,200 volunteers who received training as Ground Observer Corps members since 1950 in particular. The GOC will go out of existence January 31 as a result of an announcement by the Air Defense Command that its electronic warning network "Snare," which will intercept enemy aircraft before they could reach North American shores, has been completed.

GOC members were urged by William G. Barger, county CD Director, and Charles G. Smith, assistant director and first GOC coordinator, to turn their efforts to other phases of Civil Defense work. Development of new weapons makes the need for Civil Defense programs and volunteers even more acute today, they said.

Eyes of Air Force

The GOC program which served as the "eyes of the Air Force" in spotting aircraft, was just one phase of the Civil Defense effort, Barger said, but he quoted Lt. Gen. Atkinson, commander of the Air Defense Command, as saying the observer program was "the greatest peacetime civilian volunteer defense organization in the history of the nation."

Barger and Smith, paying tribute to Allegany County's outstanding GOC organization, said they could never express the full measure of their personal gratitude to the volunteers who "served so many hours sometimes at great personal sacrifice, and showed their sincerity and interest without opportunity of being thanked or knowing the value of their contribution."

Barger and Smith also paid tribute to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners. The GOC was one phase of the county CD program and the commissioners provided facilities.

Allegany's GOC won both national and state recognition during its period of operation which began in April 1950 with approximately 20 members. Formation of a GOC unit was the first assignment of the county CD unit. Smith was the first supervisor of the Cumberland post, which was located in the back yard of his home on Hilltop Drive and later became coordinator for all the posts in the county. The first post in Cumberland later was moved to the Civil Defense training center site in Constitution Park. Others were located at Cresaptown, Frostburg, Pinto and Bedford Road. An outpost was located at Oldtown but it was transferred to Bedford Road.

To Use Local Building

Barger said it has been recommended that the building be closed and revert to owners of property on which they are situated or be dispensed by the county. Cumberland's will remain in use in connection with CD training. From 1950 until it was placed on a "standby" basis about a year and a half ago, 1,200 volunteers took GOC training. During the "standby" period, regular alerts were held to hold the organization together and to keep its "eyes" working smoothly in conjunction with the filter center at Pittsburgh.

Some members of the GOC had logged as many as 5,000 hours of service. They came from all walks of life, occupations and even included blind people whose acute sense of hearing was of immeasurable value.

For a period of several years, the GOC officials set some sort (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Area Schools Preparing For Holiday Grid Games

Barring the possibilities of ties, there will be only two groups of happy, celebrating football fans tomorrow after the pair of traditional Thanksgiving Day games at the stadium and in Frostburg.

However, at the schools involved, a victory-like atmosphere prevailed in all the special pep rally assemblies conducted this morning. It will be capped by the huge bonfires being lighted tonight by all four of the teams and their rooters.

Bishop Walsh May Be Held By Chinese

Cumberlander Last Seen October 19 At Shanghai Church

HONG KONG (AP)—The United States consulate said yesterday it was trying to pin down an unconfirmed report that Bishop James E. Walsh of Cumberland, Md., the last American Catholic priest in Red China, has been arrested.

A Chinese attendant at the Bishop's Church of Christ the King in Shanghai, told The Associated Press by telephone that he had not seen the 67-year-old prelate for the past week.

Seen By Traveler

Official Catholic sources in Hong Kong said the last firsthand report on Bishop Walsh's whereabouts came from a traveler who called on him at his church Oct. 18.

James B. Pilcher, U. S. consul general, said that for two weeks he had been making inquiries without success about an unconfirmed report that the American priest had been taken into custody by Communist authorities.

The United States has no diplomatic ties with Red China. Inquiries usually are sent through the British, who have a consul general in Shanghai.

Bishop Walsh, a native of Cumberland, is a graduate of Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg. He was consecrated a bishop in 1927 in China.

He is a brother of William C. Walsh, of Cumberland, former attorney general of Maryland, and the uncle of William Walsh, recently elected to the Maryland House of Delegates from Allegany County.

Contacted Senator

William C. Walsh said he had made an inquiry through the office of Senator J. Glenn Beall Tuesday and learned that his brother may have been missing since November 3.

Mr. Walsh said the State Department told Beall's office that a British consular officer in Shanghai had gone to the Bishop's house on November 17 to ask about him. A servant told the British official that the Bishop had left on November 3, and that most of his belongings also were gone.

(Bishop Walsh, a Maryknoll missionary, has been in China off and on since 1918, and has been at Shanghai for about ten years. He has another brother, Rev. John F. Walsh, also a Maryknoll priest at Maryknoll, N. Y.)

Land Owners Get Protection

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Land owners in at least three West Virginia Counties in the Eastern Panhandle area will be protected from trespassers by additional Conservation Commission officers during the six-day deer season which opens Dec. 1. Director Warden M. Lane said today.

Lane said additional men were being sent to Grant, Hardy and Pendleton Counties because "conflicts between landowners and hunters, complicated by a few conservation officers to do the job of patrolling, are sure to arise."

The director observed that the commission, under state law, is required to keep hunters off posted land if the land owner asks for such action in writing. Lane said he was going to visit personally with landowners this weekend.

"It is expected that some 10,000 hunters will enter Hardy County alone in deer season," he said.

Allegany had its pep rally in the school gym at noon with Margie Swauger, Camper football queen, being crowned by coach Ed Schwarz. Attendants for the queen, who was chosen by members of the football team, are Vickie Eackler, ninth grade; Frances Shober, tenth grade; Susie Cepharl, 11th grade, and Rebecca Haines, 12th grade. The attendants were selected by members of their classes.

Speaking at the rally were Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal, co-captains of the football team, quarterback Gary Snook and fullback Jerry Morton; St. Louis Sykes, bandmaster, and coaches Paul Cuba and Schwarz.

Susie Bell, head cheerleader, led the students in cheers. A large dummy of a football player dressed in Fort Hill's colors was hanged from the ceiling with the gym being decorated in the blue and white school colors of Allegany.

The Camper Club and Senior Class will sponsor the bonfire and rally at the school football practice field at 8 p. m. The office of the Fort Hill football player will be burned. Dr. Haines, Coaches Schwarz and Cuba and officers of the Camper club will give short pep talks.

Fort Hill Rally

At Fort Hill, the pep rally was also conducted in the gymnasium with Coach Bill Hahn and assistants Wayne Boor and John Frank delivering short talks. A preview of tomorrow's game was given by Beverly Murray and Sharon Feltz. In which the Sentinels convincingly whipped Allegany.

A mock crowning of the Football Queen was demonstrated by Gilbert Brissan and Karl Taschenberger, as attendants, and Johnny Johnson, who portrayed Queen Joyce Holstey X, this year's queen.

Co-captains Tom Davis, fullback, and Bob Rowley, tackle, accepted a gift on behalf of the football team, Patricia Miller, captain of the cheerleaders, made the presentation. Music was furnished by the school band and cheerleaders were led by the school cheerleaders.

At 7 p. m. the annual bonfire sponsored by the Penn Avenue-Fort Hill Alumni Association will be held at Constitution Park for the students, coaches, rooters, team, band and cheerleaders.

Talks Scheduled

Raymond Haines, class of Penn Avenue 1934, will be master of ceremonies. Talks will be delivered by Victor D. Halsey, school principal; George Holler, president of South Cumberland Businessmen's Association; Clifford Spiker, president of the Fort Hill Booster Club, and the coaching staff.

Queen Joyce Holstey X and her two senior attendants, Barbara Cross and Ronnie Grim, will address the group. The bonfire will be lighted by the cheerleaders. A "little" Fort Hill band will play several selections under the direction of Robert O. Nuller, band director.

Delbert Proudfoot, Lester Hudson and Howard Brode, officers of the Association, will be in charge of tonight's program.

LaSalle Plans Fire

LaSalle's followers will meet tonight at the team practice field on Furnace Street with the ceremony to begin at 6:45 and last until 8 p. m.

Coaches, players and Brother Thomas, director of athletics, will give short talks. As with the other schools, a flaming bonfire will be the highlight of the festivities. Following the rally a dance will (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Election Expense Reports Filed With Clerk Of Court

Election income and expense reports have been filed with Joseph E. Boden, clerk of the Allegany County Circuit Court, by the treasurers of both the Republican and Democratic central committees.

J. Kenneth Morgan, treasurer of the Republican Committee, listed contributions of $23,902.90 and disbursements of $24,720.47, necessitating a $765.57 deficit at the conclusion of the campaign.

William L. Wilson, chairman of the Democratic Committee, reported total receipts of $9,249.07, which included $3,572.30 collected locally, $576.77 proceeds from a campaign dinner and $5,000 contributed from the party's state headquarters.

Contribution Over $100

Morgan's report listed every name who contributed $1 or more to the GOP cause. There were 31 contributions listed for more than $100 each, topping the list was William E. Jenkins of Frostburg, who gave $1,000. There were $500 contributions listed from Edmund S. Burke, Earl D. Chaney, Clarence Litzenburg and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Litzenburg together, Robert T. Regester of Baltimore and the Ligonizing Republican Club.

Other contributors of more than $100 each were: Anton's Restaurant, $400; Harry Ott, $300; Ernest B. Treal, $275; J. Wallace Close and the Cumberland Women's Republican Club, $250 each; Stanley Hamilton, $245; Verl Ash, J. Glenn Beall Jr., Buck Clapper, Louis Cohn, William A. Douglas, James S. Gelly, Woodrow W. Gully, Charles Guthrie, George Hlawood Sr., A. Charles Slawski, James R. Thrasher, Women's Republican Club of Frostburg, Edward R. Muir, R. A. Reinhard, George A. Schwarzbach, and Wambaugh Paint Shop, $200 each; Reauls A. Spiker and Paul LaRue, $150 each, and Thomas N. Berry, $125.

Seven Over $100

The Democratic report showed only seven contributions of over $100. They included: William C. Walsh, $750; W. Earle Cobey, $250; Democratic State Central Committee, $200.30; Simon F. Reilly, Edward J. Ryan and Thomas B. Finnan, $200 each, and Edward V. Welsh, $150.

Wilson reported spending $4,172.13 in the campaign headquarters and the rest of the funds went to those who used their automobiles, at $13 each, and campaign workers, who received $8 each on election day.

Eight more candidates, headed by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, also filed their expense accounts with Mr. Boden. Senator Beall said he contributed $7,800, $5,000 of it to the Republican State Central Committee of Maryland and $2,800 to the Beall For Senate Campaign Committee. All of his contributions made in behalf of his campaign which cost over $100,000 were listed in the report filed earlier by his campaign treasurer, Lewis J. Ort.

Four other successful Republican candidates also filed their expense reports. Charles M. See, unopposed in the general election for the State Senate, reported contributing $75 to the Republican State Central Committee and no other expenses.

Others included Sheriff Edward R. Muir, who won re-election to a fourth term, said his campaign expenses of $322.90 included a $200 gift to the Republican State Central Committee.

Fred B. Driscoll and Noel Speir Cook, who won re-election to the House of Delegates, also submitted their reports. Mr. Driscoll said he spent a total of $210.01 and received a $25 contribution from Charles J. Bovel. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Senator Beall To Introduce Canal Bill

Sees Passage Of Measure By New Congress Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The controversial Chesapeake and Ohio Canal park project will be back before Congress again next year. Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.) said he will offer another bill to establish the national historical park. He predicted that this time the proposal will win congressional approval.

A bill by Beall cleared the Senate this year but died in the House Interior Committee. The committee held hearings but took no action before Congress adjourned.

Top Of Agenda

"I consider this legislation most desirable," Beall said. "I'm putting this bill at the top of my agenda."

Beall said the bill probably will be identical to the one he offered in 1957. It would authorize the government to purchase about 10,000 acres to add to the 4,760 acres it already owns along the historic canal route.

It would provide also for a parkway along scenic Town Hill from a point on Maryland 51 near Paw Paw, Va., to the Long Ridge Road near Woodmont, Md.

Proponents of the project say it would give a poor man's park near big centers of population, would preserve the historic C & O Canal, and would provide a scenic parkway along the Potomac River gorge.

Predict Approval

Some opponents have taken the stand that the park project should be delayed at least until a master plan for development of the Potomac is prepared. Concern has been expressed also by some that there would be interference with fishing and hunting in the Potomac River basin.

Beall said the airing of views in the last two years should give momentum to the project this year.

"I'll do all I can to get this project approved, and I believe the Congress will see the wisdom and merits of this proposal," he added.

"This time, I predict the Congress will accept it."

Obituary

KEEGAN—Diane M., infant, of 310 Cumberland Street.

PATTERSON—James Edward, 87, of 823 Memorial Avenue, Frostburg. Mrs. Agnes, 61, formerly of Frostburg.

KEEGAN—Diane Marie Keegan died shortly after birth this morning in Memorial Hospital.

The infant was a daughter of William V. and Margaret Alice (Smith) Keegan, of 310 Cumberland Street. Mr. Keegan is a former police commissioner of Cumberland.

Besides her parents, the child is survived by her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Smith of Frostburg. Her paternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Joseph Keegan.

The body is at the residence on Cumberland Street.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence J. Kilgenny, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, will conduct a service at the home tomorrow at 11:30 a. m. Interment will be in St. Patrick's Cemetery.

JAMES E. PATTERSON, 87, of 823 Memorial Avenue, died today at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted October 16. Born in Paterson, N. J., he was a son of Walsh, $750; W. Earle Cobey, $250; Democratic State Central Committee, $200.30; Simon F. Reilly, Edward J. Ryan and Thomas B. Finnan, $200 each, and Edward V. Welsh, $150.

Wilson reported spending $4,172.13 in the campaign headquarters and the rest of the funds went to those who used their automobiles, at $13 each, and campaign workers, who received $8 each on election day.

Eight more candidates, headed by U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, also filed their expense accounts with Mr. Boden. Senator Beall said he contributed $7,800, $5,000 of it to the Republican State Central Committee of Maryland and $2,800 to the Beall For Senate Campaign Committee. All of his contributions made in behalf of his campaign which cost over $100,000 were listed in the report filed earlier by his campaign treasurer, Lewis J. Ort.

Four other successful Republican candidates also filed their expense reports. Charles M. See, unopposed in the general election for the State Senate, reported contributing $75 to the Republican State Central Committee and no other expenses.

Others included Sheriff Edward R. Muir, who won re-election to a fourth term, said his campaign expenses of $322.90 included a $200 gift to the Republican State Central Committee.

Fred B. Driscoll and Noel Speir Cook, who won re-election to the House of Delegates, also submitted their reports. Mr. Driscoll said he spent a total of $210.01 and received a $25 contribution from Charles J. Bovel. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Junior Class Comedy Dec. 5 At Mt. Savage

MT. SAVAGE—"A Date With Judy," a three-act comedy by Arleen Leslie, will be presented by the Junior Class of Mt. Savage High School Friday, December 5, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. The play is under the direction of Edwin Gillis, faculty member.

The theme concerns a typical American teenage girl who is trying too hard to win a campaign for queen of the school dance. Her antics provide a series of hilarious situations involving her family and friends.

Members of the cast include Paula Poorbaugh, Leroy Morris, Dawn Huff, Charles Barb, Alice Morgan, Elsie Miller, Robert Weldner, Ellen Wenrich, William Murphy, Jeanne Hetchkiss, Sue Sweeney, Myrna Miller, Charles Winebrenner and Carolyn Goetz.

Oldtown Brush Fire Quenched

OLDTOWN—A broken high tension line early Monday night set off a grass and brush fire on Allen Hill here.

The break darkened homes in the community and put the siren used to summon members of the Oldtown Volunteer Fire Company out of commission.

When word of the blaze was given, firemen had to resort to jump-power and to dispatch cars to gather a crew of fire fighters. John Nixon, president of the recently organized company, reported a crew of 18 men was gathered and the radiator of the fire truck filled in about 15 minutes.

Firemen had the fire under control within a few minutes and out in less than half an hour. The work was speeded as flames were being fanned by a high wind into the path of a home.

North Branch firemen answered the alarm, but the blaze was under control when they arrived on the scene.

Help Clear Land
Oldtown firemen have been helping area residents clear land by burning brush and weeds. Ten acres at Bull Ring Ranch has been cleared and three to five acres on the recently purchased VanMeter tract have been burned.

During one of these operations, a local resident called District 16 and reported a bad "brush fire." When District 16 volunteers arrived, they realized the Oldtown volunteers had the fire under control, they returned to their home station.

40 Applicants Will Be Accepted At STC By Jan. 1

FROSTBURG — Miss Elisabeth Hitchens, registrar in charge of admissions at Frostburg State Teachers College, today notified President R. Bowen Hardesty that the college has openings for 40 applicants as of January 28.

However, due to overcrowding residence halls, students will have to live at home or rent rooms approved by the college in the City of Frostburg.

These openings are made possible by the nurses of Memorial Hospital spending only the first semester in study at the college.

Applicants from armed services, students returning to college to resume work, transferees and other interested applicants should contact Miss Hitchens, and at the same time request their former school to mail a transcript of work to Miss Hitchens.

Mid-year entrants are expected to register in person January 28, but applications are to be filed now. The final date for accepting applications will be January 1.

The current enrollment at Frostburg State Teachers College is 703 students. Eight hundred are expected to enroll in September 1955. Applications for September are being received daily.

Residents of Frostburg who have rooms to rent to men and women students in January are requested to advise Mrs. Marguerite Hughes at the college, relative to details of availability.

Brief Mention

Ivan C. Diehl, dean of instruction at Frostburg State Teachers College, will be in New York City to attend the National Council for Geographic Education, at the Hotel Statler-Hilton tomorrow through Sunday. James B. Cotton, of the social science department at the college, also will attend.

Henry Clay, who almost but did not quite become president of the U.S., won his law degree at the age of 21. He was still under 30 when appointed to the U.S. Senate in 1806.

The community Thanksgiving service for Mt. Lake Park will be held in Oak Park Church of the Brethren near Southern High School tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Rev. Edward G. Wenger, of Oak Park Church; Rev. Randall Prince, of Bethel Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park, and Rev. W. C. Rogers from Loch Lynn Baptist Church, will participate in the service. Rev. Bryan Blair of the Evangelical Union Brethren Church of Loch Lynn, will deliver the Thanksgiving message.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held in St. Paul's Methodist Church here today at 7:30 p. m. All Protestant churches of the town are cooperating.

Resigns Post

William Webb DeWitt, county roads engineer for the past 14 years, has tendered his resignation to the Board of Garrett County Commissioners, effective November 30.

He announced he was retiring because of ill health. It was understood that the new board of commissioners, which plans to take over its duties early in December, had asked him to remain in that position, but that DeWitt felt it would be best for him if he retired immediately.

Prior to serving as roads engineer, DeWitt was a cost accountant for the department and was also employed as a foreman and grader operator by Maryland during the time the state had charge of the county roads. He has supervised the construction of many miles of county roads during his time in office.

DeWitt plans to continue living in Hayes. No successor has been named as yet.

Constable Named

The Garrett County Commissioners have appointed Bruce Lohr as acting constable to serve during the absence of Mark H. Moon, who was a patient in Doctors' Hospital, Washington, following an operation.

Lohr recently returned to the county after having resided in Silver Spring.

There was some question whether or not Lohr could legally serve in the capacity of a substitute constable and the question was turned over to Lewis R. Jones, attorney to the commissioners.

Hampshire Area Hospital Nears Completion Stage

ROMNEY — The Hampshire Memorial Hospital is rapidly nearing completion, but an official opening date has not been set. The building is substantially complete with only the many last minute adjustments and details to be completed.

W. A. Sherman, general contractor for the hospital, said that he expected to have everything done and the structure ready for final inspection by December 1.

Before the final inspection can be made, however, all of the equipment must have been received and installed. The check will be made by representatives of the State Health Department and the Federal Public Health Service, accompanied by the architect and the county court.

The governmental agencies are being contacted and requested to set a date for the final inspection prior to the middle of December. The hospital cannot be opened to receive patients until the inspection is made, and the officials of the state and federal agencies concerned will set the date for the inspection.

Equipment and furnishings for the hospital have been ordered and have begun to arrive. Two trailer loads of bedroom furniture reached here last week. The loads included beds, dressers, bedside stands and straight chairs. The Pioneer Furniture Company of Romney is making the easy chairs for the bedrooms and has delivered them to the hospital. The hospital is also using chairs from Pioneer in the waiting rooms, lobby, staff room and offices.

Equipment for the rest of the building has been ordered and delivery by the end of the first week of December has been promised for all except a few minor items of this equipment. The delay in ordering was caused by the long time it took to receive approval from the State Health Department. The itemized list of equipment, which numbers thousands of items, was submitted to the Health Department last June for approval. It was not until September that word was received from Charleston that the list would not be approved as submitted.

Leslie L. Lamb, hospital administrator, and John C. Ailes, chairman of the hospital board, then had to go to Charleston for a conference on revision of the list. After the revisions were made and the new list approved, it had to be resubmitted. Tentative approval of the revised list was not received until early November, but once it was received the orders for the equipment were placed with the suppliers.

Meanwhile, several members of the staff have been on duty and are busy handling the myriad details of ordering equipment and handling it as it comes in. Mrs. Ruth Dennis, director of nurses; Edward Smith, X-ray technician; Mrs. Jane Stull, nurse anesthetist, and Welby Lewis, maintenance chief, are on the job full time. Mrs. Myrtle Roach, dietitian, and Mrs. Thelma Carter, operating room supervisor, have not been put on the payroll, but have been devoting time to helping with the equipment lists and other problems.

Westernport IOOF Lodge Program Set

WESTERNPORT — Hiram Lodge 103, AF and AM, will honor Grand Master A. Wayne Reed and his wife with a testimonial dinner Friday, December 5, at 5 p. m. in Trinity Methodist Church at Piedmont.

Judge Morgan C. Harris, of Cumberland, will be the master of ceremonies. Attorney Walter W. Dawson, of Oakland, past senior grand warden and past grand inspector, will speak.

Tickets will be available to members of Hiram lodge, their ladies and invited guests from Louis W. Hicks, secretary of the lodge.

Formerly of Westernport, Mr. and Mrs. Reed are now residents of Frostburg. He is employed at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Reed was elected and installed most worshipful grand master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Maryland in Baltimore.

He has been signally honored by election to many offices in the Masonic fraternity. A past master of Hiram lodge, he is a past potentate of All Glean Shrine, Cumberland; a 3rd degree Mason; past grand inspector, past grand lecturer and past senior grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Maryland. He has also served as a member of the board of managers and as a member of the board of trustees. For the past two years he has been the most worshipful deputy grand master.

In the Scottish Rite bodies Reed is a past venerable master of Cumberland Lodge of Perfection, past wise master of Cumberland Chapter, Rose Croix, and past commander of Cumberland Council of Kadosh.

Dances Scheduled

LONACONING — The Lonaconing Republican Club will hold a dance tomorrow night with music by "Mr. and Mrs. Rhythm."

James P. Love Post 92, American Legion, will hold a dance at the Legion Home tomorrow with music by "Leon and Patty."

Knights Templar Plan Inspection, Dinner Saturday

KEYSER — The annual inspection of Danasus Commandery 23, Knights Templar, Saturday in the Masonic Temple will be preceded by a dinner at 6 p. m.

This year the inspection will be conducted by Eminent Sir Samuel G. Williamson of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of West Virginia, Williamson, whose home is in Athens, is well known among Masons in this area.

These annual inspections include the checking of paraphernalia, quarters and uniforms, as well as ritualistic and tactical maneuvers.

As in former years, the main topic of interest will be a discussion of the Knights Templar Educational Foundation and the recently established Knights Templar Eye Foundation. The educational foundation has been the means of thousands of college students throughout the nation completing their education, while the eye foundation, though only four years old, has already helped hundreds of children and adults toward better eyesight, and is being lauded throughout the country by doctors and scientists.

Among the dignitaries of the order who are expected to attend the annual inspection are Right Eminent Sir Clarence A. Ogle of Charleston, who holds the office of grand commander, and who will be accompanied by other grand officers on his official staff. A large attendance is expected from neighboring commanderies in West Virginia.

Woman Dean To Speak At Midlothian Church

FROSTBURG — Miss Helen Wedding, dean of women at Eastern Bible Institute, Green Lane, Pa., will speak in Trinity Assembly of God Church, Midlothian, Sunday at the 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services.

Miss Wedding has been with the institute the past eight years. She served at Central Bible Institute in Springfield, Mo.

Sanitation, Health Needs Under Study

FRANKLIN — Roy Rader, head sanitarian of the Division of Sanitary Engineers for the State Health Department, is conducting an extensive public health sanitary survey in Pendleton County. He expects to complete his work in two or three weeks.

The purpose of the survey is to provide health officials with information necessary to enable them to determine the public health and sanitation needs of Pendleton County.

The health department is interested in determining the health and sanitation needs of the county at the present time, and also in pre-determining the needs that can be expected to develop due to the increase in population expected to result from the construction of the Naval Radio Research Station at Sugar Grove.

Dr. Charles J. Siles, county health officer, said Rader will make a survey of health needs all over the county and will check such things as water supplies, schools, eating establishments and motels.

Drive Planned

Chief Willie Flinn announced that the Franklin Volunteer Fire Company will hold its annual porchlight drive for funds during the week of December 8-13 this year instead of in March.

"There are two reasons why it is advisable for us to hold our drive earlier this year," Flinn said. "First, the weather is often bad in March. Last year it was disagreeable and it made the job of conducting the drive very difficult."

"Secondly, the note for the third payment on the fire truck comes due in February, thus making it important for us to conduct the campaign before that date so we can have the money available to apply on the note."

Money donated to the firemen during the porchlight drive will be applied on the balance due on the fire truck purchased recently.

Birthday Party Held

BAKTON — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Penman entertained recently with a party in honor of their daughter, Andrea, on her twelfth birthday. Refreshments were served and games and dancing furnished the entertainment.

Attending were Sandra Rounds, Judy Russell, Ina Schramm, Janet Loar, Brenda Bean, Sally Evans, Gerale Patton, Diana Moore, Geraldine Preston, Jenie Preston, Dixie Howell, Shirley Miller, Connie Kinkely, Brenda Dodds, Rose Ann Chaney, Carol Ann Penman, David Penman and Mrs. H. Howard.

Youth Conference Meeting Slated

A Conference for Youth, sponsored by the Cumberland Ministerial Association, will be held there Saturday and Sunday at Central Y.M.C.A. and St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Rev. Dr. Joseph A. Fernandez, formerly a Roman Catholic priest for 18 years, and now a Protestant minister, will be the speaker for the three sessions of the conference.

The program will open with a dinner meeting at the YMCA on Saturday, 6 p. m., with Dr. Fernandez speaking on the subject of mixed marriages.

Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church

ference is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the YMCA. Dr. Fernandez will show films on the theme, "Mixed Marriages," at this meeting.

Following the film showings the young people will be asked to form groups for discussion of possible questions to ask Dr. Fernandez on the theme: Capt. Daniel K. Biggs of the Salvation Army will be in charge of the afternoon program.

The concluding session of the conference will be held Sunday evening with special services at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Dr. Fernandez will speak on "My Conversion." The host pastor,

Rev. John F. Sammel, will lead the service.

Campy Calls Self 'Lucky'

By JOE REICHLER

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Paralyzed Roy Campy, facing the prospect of spending the remainder of his life in a wheel chair, called himself a lucky man today and said he had many things to be thankful for.

The former star catcher of baseball, who has slumped down from 215 to 185 pounds after his long siege in the hospital as a result of his tragic automobile accident, nearly 10 months ago, is back home.

Last Thanksgiving, robust and spry, he was eagerly looking forward to his move to Los Angeles with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Now, he puts in painful hours each day trying to rebuild his muscles in the hope that someday he may be able just to walk again.

Hasn't Lost Hope

Campy admits that day may never come but he hasn't lost hope and the warm and friendly smile that won so many friends for him is still on his thinned-down face. "I keep telling myself how lucky I've been," he said. "I just keep thanking God I'm alive and I had a house and a family to come back to. Look at poor Mel Ott. He was in an automobile crackup too. He's dead. I'm only paralyzed. I said a little prayer for Mel and I sent him a wire but I guess he never got to read it."

Yes, Campy was home and he was happy. He no longer was burdened by the neck brace he had worn since last January when he underwent an operation on his broken neck. He is still paralyzed from the chest down, however, and he has to be lifted from his bed into the wheel chair. He has to be dressed and undressed. He is constantly attended by a male nurse. He needs an appliance on his hand to feed himself, to lift objects, to sign his name. He still has no movement in his fingers.

"Yes, I've got so many things to be thankful for," he said. "I'm thankful no member of my family was with me at the time of the accident. I'm thankful I've got all my sense. I'm thankful just to be home, surrounded by my family."

Roy's Eyes Glisten

As Campy was talking, he kept caressing his 5-year-old daughter Princess, who was sitting on his lap, squealing delightedly while manipulating the battery-operated wheel chair for her daddy. Roy Jr., 10, and Tony, 8, two others of Campy's six children, were running from room to room, playing a game of tag. Roy's wife Ruth was busily engaged in the kitchen helping her mother prepare for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Roy's eyes glistened as he watched the activity. "Look at the kids," he exclaimed. "They're not worried about me being in the wheel chair. Daddy's home. That's all they care about. I have trouble keeping them out of the wheel chair. When I'm in bed, they're all in there with me. I've got no time to sulk with them around."

As Campy spoke he kept flexing his wrists, flailing his withered arms across his body, and raising them over his head. He kept pivoting his shoulders in quarter turns.

"I got to keep doing that to prevent a tightness of the muscles," he explained. "I still have no feeling in my legs but I know my insides are all right and I feel strong."

"It's a new life for me. I'm starting all over again. You learn to put up with a lot of things you'd ordinarily gripe about. Sometimes I wonder how long this might go on. But I get such thoughts out of my head quickly. You got to keep thinking good thoughts. Otherwise you could go nuts."

Voice Vibrant Again

Roy's voice is vibrant now as it was before the accident. Except for his arms, which are painfully thin, he looks robust enough. He visits the Institute for Physical Rehabilitation three days a week and spends five hours a day lifting weights and exercising his muscles.

Roy intends to make his first visit since the accident to the liquor store he owns in Harlem. He also does a taped-radio show once a week and he writes a column for a weekly newspaper.

"I may have to live with this all my life," he said. "But I got to make myself believe otherwise. I got to think it will all come back. Maybe I'm fooling myself but I got to keep fighting and praying. And I know someday, with God's help, I will walk again."

WVU-Virginia Game On TV

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The first live telecast of a West Virginia University sports event within the state is scheduled here Dec. 13.

WCHS-TV in Charleston announced Tuesday that it will carry the West Virginia-Virginia basketball game from Charleston's new civic center.

The game already is a sellout with more than 6,000 fans expected to watch the defending national champion Mountaineers battle the Cavaliers.

West Virginia basketball teams have performed for TV audiences a number of times at Madison Square Garden but the Dec. 13 appearance here will be their first "home" fans.

Fort Hill Favored In Title Game Tomorrow

Alco Facing Old Jinx In Turkey Day Grid Battle

By JIM DAY

Times-Sentinel Sports Editor

Will Allegany High's Campers be able to contain the undefeated but once tied Fort Hill powerhouse that has been averaging 40 points a game? Will the Campers, who haven't been able to claim a triumph over their city rival in a dozen years, be able to shake the jinx that has been with them since 1945?

These and other questions on the minds of the fans of the two schools will be answered tomorrow afternoon following the 23rd meeting of the two rivals in the annual Thanksgiving Day football struggle at the stadium.

And, with the weatherman calling for a partly cloudy but cold afternoon, one of the largest crowds of recent years is in prospect for the clash which marks the windup to the 1948 football season. Kickoff time is 1:30.

Colorful Series

It was back in 1936 that Allegany and Fort Hill played their first holiday game. That year the Campers nudged their South End opponents, 19-12, and so it has gone through the years in a colorful series loaded with stirring feats and vigorous tactics. It is a knock-down and drag-out classic and when the schools get together tomorrow, the meeting is not expected to be any different.

In doping the contest, despite the lop-sided finishes of the past 12 years in favor of the Sentinels, it is useless to compare won-lost accounts. No matter the showings of the teams over the year, the holiday hassle usually produces more than its share of thrills and the unexpected.

The Campers, with Ed Schwarz winding up his first term as football coach, carry a mark of seven wins and only two losses into the contest and will be definite underdogs. The Sentinels, with Bill Hahn finishing his 14th term at the helm, have only a 6-6 deadlock with North Hagerstown to blot their eight-game schedule.

The Red Raiders have a triple incentive to win tomorrow. A victory is a must in order to tie the North Hagerstown for the Cumberland Valley Athletic League title. A triumph also brings the Hilltoppers their fifth straight city honor and 11th in the past 13 campaigns. Only twice, a 6-6 tie in 1948 and a 7-7 draw in 1953, have the Red Raiders had to share the city toga with their camper rival.

After Another Unbeaten Year

The Hilltoppers will also be angling for their second straight undefeated season, although having the deadlock. It would be the fourth in Hahn's coaching career, his previous unbeaten eleven being in 1950 (9-0-0) and last season. The 1948 club had a 9-0-1 mark.

The Sentinels have gone through 19 games without a loss, the string starting on Turkey Day of 1936 when they whipped Alco, 20-0. They compiled the city's first 10-0 mark in history last fall, capping the campaign with a 28-6 win on Thanksgiving Day. The Hahn-coached Red Raiders reeled off five in a row this fall before being knotted by North Hagerstown. They have won their last two starts.

Allegany has moved back into the circle of football powers under Schwarz this season. Only setbacks on the Blue and White sheets are a 39-14 trimming by North Hagerstown and a 33-25 loss to Westminster.

Both the Sentinels and Campers knocked over LaSalle, the tied Raiders in their opener, 47-7, and the Campers near mid season, 19-6. By virtue of that conquest, Alco will be able to share the city honors if, holding the Sentinels to a standstill or take it outright with an upset.

This year's Scarlet and White, as in the past, is again an offensive powerhouse capably rounded out with a great defense. That has been a trademark of Hahn-coached eleven.

The Red Raiders have rolled along at a 40-point per game clip with 330 tallies on 4 touchdowns and 26 extra points. The opposition has been held to 68 markers in the eight games with but 10 touchdowns and six successful points after. The opposition's average is 8.5 per contest.

The Sentinels' running game, sparked by halfbacks Bill Koerner and Donnie Lewis, the line charges of fullback Tom Davis and brilliant quarterbacking of Charlie Robinson, has chewed up the turf for 2,446 yards rushing. Reserve backs Jim Hammond and Leroy Henry have also been equally effective when inserted into the Hilltopper lineup.

Although passing has been held to a minimum, the Red Raiders have a strong aerial attack led by Robinson, one of the area's most gifted signal-callers. Eight times the Red Raiders have struck paydirt overhead. Thirty-five of their six-pointers have come on rushes.

The South Enders, who four times pitted up 40 points or better with a season high by trimming Westminster, 65-28, have added 382 yards through the air on 20 of 49 completions to give them a total net gain of 2,828 yards.

TO SEE ACTION FOR SENTINELS — These are the boys who are bound to see action for Fort Hill's Sentinels in tomorrow's big game. Kneeling (left to right) are linemen Gary Holtzman, Larry Cosgrove, Gene Counihan, Bill

Hahn, Fred Joyce, Walter Reed, Bob Rowley, Jack Wellman and coach Bill Hahn. Standing are backs Donnie Lewis, Charley Robinson, Leroy Henry, Tom Davis, Bill Koerner and Jim Hammond.

HOPE TO SNAP HOLIDAY JINX — Allegany High's gridders won't be facing city rival Fort Hill tomorrow at the stadium in the Thanksgiving Day football classic with only ten players as they seek to end a 12-year victory drought over the Sentinels. Missing from the photo is halfback Bob Gaffney who is a doubtful starter because of a leg injury that has hampered him most of the

and Bob Gaffney and alternating fullbacks Tom Miller and Jerry Horton. The Blue and White has compiled a rushing total of 1,936 yards with 23 of its 33 TDs coming on the ground.

Shook, who likes to pass, has connected for six touchdowns through the air while Powell and Miller have thrown one apiece. Hitting on 33 of 75 attempts, Alco has accounted for 727 yards in the air for a net of 2,615 rushing and passing.

As for their city rival, the Campers have been able to go after the opposition in a hurry, 150 of their points being made before intermission.

Alco, defensively, has allowed 1,067 yards overall with 488 coming on 32 pass completions in 66 Reds.

Cannon, Dawkins Top Choices In UPI All-America

Bob White And Duncan Other Picks In Backfield

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Billy Cannon, the big offensive threat in Louisiana State's climb to the No. 1 national ranking, and versatile Pete Dawkins of Army were the most popular choices on the 1959 United Press International All-America football team announced today.

Cannon and Dawkins headed a perfectly balanced backfield that included quarterback Randy Duncan of Iowa and fullback Bob White of Ohio State.

The All-America line was made up of Buddy Dial of Rice and Sam Williams of Michigan State at ends; Ted Bates of Oregon State and Brock Strom of Air Force Academy at tackles; John Guzik of Notre Dame at guards; and Bob Harrison of Oklahoma at center.

Ecuyer, the only repeater from the 1957 United Press All-America, barely edged Guzik as the outstanding line selection in the voting by 278 sports writers and radio and television broadcasters from all over the country.

The "dream team" thus was made up of four players from the Midwest; two from the East and one each from the Southwest, Pacific Coast, Midlands, Rockies and South. Nine of the players are seniors, Cannon and White are juniors.

Bob Anderson of Army, who made the first team last year as a sophomore, was beaten out in the voting for a backfield spot. He led in the voting for the second team backfield, however.

Cannon, a 200-pound triple-threat who led LSU through a perfect season of 10 victories and a berth in the Sugar Bowl, polled 2,276 points out of a possible perfect score of 3,058. He beat out Dawkins by 22 points. Duncan had 1,923 points and White 1,731. With four backfield spots available, the backs traditionally poll more points than the linemen.

Ecuyer received a total of 1,562 points to 1,551 for Guzik and 1,438 for Harrison.

The closest contest in the 1959 All-America voting was at end where Williams barely beat out Monty Suckles of Notre Dame for a first team position, 1,097 points to 1,021. The voting for tackle was the most scattered of any position on the team.

Backfield Superbly Integrated

The first-team backfield is a superbly integrated quartet that undoubtedly could function as a devastating unit if put on the field tomorrow. Each is recognized as a "clutch" player who led his team to a spot among the nation's top 10 this season.

Duncan is the major college to tail offense leader and ranks second among the passers; White is the nation's No. 2 rusher, Cannon ranks seventh in that department; Dawkins and Cannon are tied for fourth among the scorers; Cannon is an excellent punter and conversion kicker, and completed three of the four passes he was asked to throw.

In leading Iowa to the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl, Duncan accounted for a total of 1,406 yards. He completed 57.7 percent of the passes he threw and pitched for 11 touchdowns. White is a bulldozing ball-carrier of the "old school." He carried 218 times and averaged a fraction less than four yards per carry.

Scourge of Dixie

Cannon was the scourge of Dixie this season. The instructions from opposing coaches to their players was "don't let Cannon get the ball in an open field." His rushing average from scrimmage is 5.9 yards per try and he also is extremely elusive at running back kicks. His punting average is "only" 35 yards, but with a winning team he had few opportunities to kick long.

Dawkins, a superb open field runner and a left-handed passer when the occasion demanded, is a fine inspirational leader. He has scored 12 touchdowns and boasts a rushing average of 5.9 yards.

MVP Banks Just Getting Homer Knack

BOSTON (AP)—Home run king Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs had plenty of bad news for opposing pitchers today after winning the National League's Most Valuable Player award for 1958.

"I've just come upon this knack of hitting home runs," said the young slugger, who crashed 47 homers to shatter his major league record for shortstops.

Banks, whose homer output and 129 runs batted in topped both major leagues, was an overwhelming choice for MVP in the voting Tuesday by the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America.

Named on every ballot, he polled 16 of the 24 first-place votes; cast by writers in the eight National League cities and piled up 283 points, the highest total since Willie Mays won the MVP in 1954.

Mays Draws Three

Mays, the only other player listed on every ballot, drew three first-place votes and 185 points for his tremendous efforts for the San Francisco Giants last season.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, the 1957 MVP, was third with 166 points, followed by Frank Thomas, Pittsburgh Pirates, with 143, and southpaw Warren Spahn, Braves, with 108.

Banks, 27, said he was surprised by his selection and called the honor "a hard one to get for there certainly are a lot of valuable players around besides me."

A veteran of five full seasons with the Cubs, he said he figures he has "a lot of years ahead of me."

"I think my peak as a player is yet to come," said the 6-foot, 190-pounder.

Banks said he believes Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers in a season will be broken. But, he added, "I don't know if I will be the one to do it, or even come close."

Banks joined Marty Marion, former St. Louis great, as the only shortstop to win the MVP award since the baseball writers took over the voting in 1931. Marion won in the war year of 1944 although he batted only .267, hit six homers and drove in 63 runs.

One of the surprises in the voting was the 12th-place finish of Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' three-time MVP winner who gathered but 39 points.

Larry Shepard Picked Salt Lake City Pilot

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—The Salt Lake Bees of the Pacific Coast League Saturday announced the signing of Larry Shepard as field manager for the 1959 season.

The announcement was made by Bee General Manager Eddie Lieshman after receiving Shepard's signed contract from the latter's home in Lincoln, Neb.

Last season the Bees finished in fifth place, 12 games out of first place.

Breedlove Repeater On All-ACC

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina's Tar Heels, marching back to the football prominence they enjoyed a decade ago, placed four men on the 1959 All-Atlantic Coast Conference team selected by The Associated Press regional board.

Six of the top 11 players are juniors, the others seniors.

Clemson's conference champions, Duke and South Carolina each placed two men on the team and Maryland had one representative.

The ends are Al Goldstein of North Carolina and Ray Masner of Clemson.

Phil Blazer of North Carolina and Ed Pitts of South Carolina are the tackles. Mike McGee of Duke and Rod Breedlove of Maryland are the guards, and Bill Thomas of Clemson is at center.

The backfield is made up of Jack Cummings and Wade Smith of North Carolina, Wray Carlton of Duke and Alex Hawkins of South Carolina.

Three men, Blazer, Breedlove and Carlton, are repeaters from the 1957 team.

Cummings was selected by the board as the outstanding player in the conference, rated just ahead of Mike McGee, Duke's fine guard, and Alex Hawkins, South Carolina's all-purpose halfback.

Cummings set conference records for total yardage—gained (1,148) and yards gained passing (1,137) as he led the Tar Heels to a 6-4 season.

Breedlove, of Cumberland, Md., who made the star team as a sophomore last fall, continued to deliver a high grade of guard play week after week, despite Maryland's poor season. He led the Terps with five pass interceptions.

Maryland's tackle Fred Cole was chosen on the second team while Ed Ben Scotti was given honorable mention.

Serving on the AP board were Sports Editors Chauncey Durden of the Richmond Times-Dispatch; Hugo Germino of the Durham Sun; Jim Foster of the Spartanburg, S. C. Herald and Jim Anderson of the Greenville, S. C. News.

Whitley Kelley, executive sports editors of the Charlotte Observer and Jim Simpson of Washington, D. C., radio station WRC.

Hoopie Picks Alco, LaSalle - To Get Beat

By MAJOR AMOS E. HOOPIE (He's A Bird)

HAR-RUMPH!! I shall not quibble with a long speech on the outcome of tomorrow's Thanksgiving Day football contests. I have been engaged in serious mutters of late about Turkey Day and its gastronomic meanings.

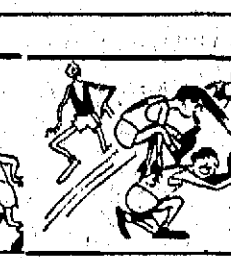

Using the compilations of my staff I found myself forced to agree with the prognostications that Port Hill and Beal will not get beat. Allegany will wage a stubborn battle in the first half and suddenly lose its effectiveness. Mr. Red Beard Daly assumes Mr. Allegany will win the coin flip and receive at the game's start.

And, on the same afternoon I foresee trouble for LaSalle, not of the extra-point variety, but one by a 20-14 triumph for Beal. Also, the Explorers will lose the flip of the coin. In fact the game will be held up several minutes while the frantic officials search for the silver piece on the field.

There are more Hoopie shocks to follow:

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

AUGUST 21 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) - No unusual planetary help now, but with your intelligent know-how, you can make much out of little. As group activities may be successful, some matters need your share of effort.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) - Avoid emotional scenes and recklessness now. Calmness, serenity of mind, are conducive to more accurate results. As with Scorpio, it will be important not to go to extremes.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio) - Familiar matters, work for which you have training, are especially scheduled in order to accomplish. It will take time, relaxing steps, bring about better results. Have faith.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius) - Avoid emotional scenes and recklessness now. Calmness, serenity of mind, are conducive to more accurate results. As with Scorpio, it will be important not to go to extremes.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn) - There may be moments when you feel the need for last-minute rushing, but with your own good sense and analysis before doing so, be thoughtful, logical. And, for the time being, don't venture on new enterprises.

JANUARY 24 to FEBRUARY 23 (Aquarius) - Good! Uranus influences culture. Matters with which you are familiar or have training should make fine headway. A well-planned program will bring excellent results. Look ahead, however.

FEBRUARY 24 to MARCH 23 (Pisces) - You have several courses which you could now pursue. Choose well and you can come through with flying colors. Much depends upon the demands of your position and how you require to handle matters. Important! Don't argue.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with energy, determination and power. You are most enterprising - a true hold and daring. Each success seems to spur you on to others, and the greatest of these is in the field of the future. You are usually calm and practical-minded; reserved in manner and courteous but may be susceptible in feeling. You are awarded about revealing secrets, opinions, sympathies. Avoid a tendency toward over-ambition.

Rawlings Man Being Held On Charge Of Mail Theft

A 30-year-old Rawlings native is being held in Allegany County jail on charges of theft of mail. Raymond Cassidy was transferred to the county lockup after he surrendered to City Police about 11 p. m. Monday, U. S. postal authorities said. Police said the man entered headquarters and asked to see the desk sergeant. He then revealed he had stolen five letters from mail boxes on McMillen Highway earlier the same day, police added.

He told police he had been looking for money and turned over the five opened letters to the officer, who said one of them contained a small postal money order.

Richard M. Johnson, local postal inspector, said last night he transferred Cassidy to the county jail yesterday to await action of the U. S. attorney's office in Baltimore. It will decide today if prosecution is to be instituted in the case, he added.

Mr. Johnson said Cassidy has been arrested several times previously on the same charge. The first time about 10 years ago when he was sentenced to the federal prison in Ashland, Ky. Cassidy was just released in April from a federal prison in Tallahassee, Fla., where he served three years on a mail theft count.

The postal inspector said Cassidy has no permanent address and recently has been residing in Ridgeley.

Railroad Retirement Office Dates Cited

The local office of the Railroad Retirement Board located in the Post Office announces changes in dates it will be open in December and January.

Charles F. Spearing, district manager, of Albion, said the office here will be open on December 9 and 10 as usual and will be open on December 16 and 17 instead of December 23 and 24.

In January the office will be open on the 6th and 7th plus the regularly scheduled dates of January 13 and 14 as well as the 27th and 28th. Office hours are from 8:15 a. m. until 4:45 p. m.

Refuse Attracting Stray Dogs To City

The Health Department yesterday advised citizens against throwing out food for dogs.

The practice has been attracting stray dogs to the city, according to J. Byron Dowling, chief sanitarian.

SWEETHEART, ARRAIGNED — This is the scene in Brooklyn Veterans Hospital in New York yesterday as Lillian B. Freiberg is arraigned on a charge of slaying her boy friend, former Air Force pilot John Conwell three weeks ago. Still confined to her wheelchair by three bullet wounds, Miss Freiberg, 26, is questioned by U. S. Commissioner Martin C. Epstein, right, about the shooting which was first written off by police as a suicide and attempted murder by the dead man. The FBI, which moved in on the case, claims that Miss Freiberg killed Conwell and then turned the gun on herself. At left is Deputy U. S. Marshal Thomas Shortell and in the center is Assistant U. S. Attorney Kenneth Sternberg.

Heart Program Evaluation Approved

The board of directors of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association met Monday and adopted a report of an evaluation committee presented by James W. Bishop, chairman.

F. Allen Weatherholt, association president, said the evaluation committee was appointed several months ago at the request of the Maryland Heart Association to determine the scope of the program in Western Maryland, to review and study the accomplishments, and to help establish a course for future activity.

In its final form, the report probably will serve as a pilot study for the other counties of Maryland. This chapter, Mr. Weatherholt said, was asked to complete the initial evaluation because it is the oldest chapter in the state and has one of the most active programs of community service and education.

The report from Bishop's committee recommends the appointment of 11 basic committees, with specific duties. The committees include constitution and by-laws, finance and budget, personnel, professional education, public education, membership and nominating, medical advisory board, rheumatic fever control, community service, publicity, and fund raising.

The report outlines a commission or assignment for each of these committees and also recommends a continuation of present programs with a broadening of some and renewed activity in other fields.

For example, Bishop explained, the constitution and by-laws, now more than 10 years old, need revision to bring them into line with present-day problems and growth of the association.

Weatherholt named Harold Naughton, chairman and William A. Wilson and Ernest B. Treat, members of the committee with a request to proceed with the revision.

Bishop was appointed chairman of the committee on finance and budget to be assisted by Thomas F. Conlon Sr., John E. Geare, C. Morgan Smith, and Daniel Y. Hershberger of Grantsville.

The public education committee has been appointed. John D. Kelley, teacher at Beall High School is chairman. Members include Miss Mary Murray, Mrs. William J. Gunter, Jayes Chambers, Mrs. Hugh McMullen and Dr. Benedict Skitaralic, with others to be added.

A new committee is that on rheumatic fever. The association now provides about 200 rheumatic fever patients in these two counties with daily medication. The demand for this help has doubled in the past year. Several other facets of the program are to be assigned this committee.

The evaluation committee recommended a continuation of the hospital and sick room equipment lending service now provided free on recommendation of physicians.

It recommended also the continuation of the association's recreational and occupational therapy service, the work classification program, work simplification, educational services, transportation for needy heart victims to hospitals and clinics, the Rheumatic Fever control program, consultation service, referral service and distribution of diet books and other requested literature needed by heart victims.

After the report was adopted unanimously with a vote of thanks to the committee, the committee was discharged and the board directed the executive committee, the president and the executive secretary to complete the committee organization as recommended.

NLRB Election Slated At Bakery

Plans for a consent election December 4 to determine the bargaining agent for inside workers of the McIntyre Bakery in Westport were made at a National Labor Relations Board hearing here yesterday.

The hearing was conducted in the Post Office Building by Miss Louise Felton, NLRB examiner, on separate petitions filed by the bakery to determine the union or unions to represent inside men and driver-salesmen of the firm.

During the meeting, the baking company, Local 246, Bakery Workers, AFL-CIO, and District 50, United Mine Workers, entered into an agreement to hold a consent election December 4 from 11 a. m. to noon at the plant.

The vote will be conducted by Miss Felton to determine the union to represent the inside workers.

The hearing continued on the petition concerning the driver-salesmen of the firm, with testimony from a company spokesman.

At that point, Local 453, Teamsters Union, moved for the dismissal of the petition on grounds that the NLRB lacked jurisdiction. The motion was referred to the NLRB.

District 50 has made separate applications for bargaining rights for inside men and driver-salesmen. The bakers union wants to retain bargaining rights for inside men, as does the Teamsters Union for the driver-salesmen. The plant has been picketed for some time and shut down November 10 as a result of the labor dispute.
